

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

DEDICATORY EXERCISES TO BE HELD TO-NIGHT.

Addresses by Charles D. Warner, Edmund Wilson, Rev. W. B. Matteson, Joseph L. Blaisdell and by Prominent Educators.

The new Red Bank school building will be dedicated to-night. The exercises will consist of an introductory address by Charles D. Warner, the president of the Red Bank board of education, and other addresses by Edmund Wilson of Red Bank, James L. Hays of Newark, president of the state board of education; John Enright, the county superintendent; James M. Green, principal of the state normal school at Trenton; Rev. W. B. Matteson, pastor of the Red Bank Baptist church; and Joseph

From the time of Mr. Warner's election as trustee he began the agitation for a new school house, and in 1871 the brick schoolhouse on Mechanic street was constructed. In 1887 the Oakland street school building was erected, and a little later an addition was built to the Mechanic street building which about doubled its capacity. The Shrewsbury avenue school was built in 1895.

For ten years or more there has been a sentiment in favor of a high school building. Once an election was called, but the people at that time thought that the town was hardly able to support a high school and the project was defeated. Two years ago this summer the matter came up before the people again and this time there was almost no opposition, the election to raise $80,000 for a high

L. Blaisdell, president of the alumni association of the Red Bank public school. The addresses will be interspersed with music.

The dedication of the high school building to-night marks the culmination of the hopes of Charles D. Warner. Ever since Mr. Warner has been a resident of Red Bank he has taken a profound interest in the public schools of the town. He has been a member of the board of education almost from his arrival in Red Bank, and he has held the office of school trustee for a longer continuous term than probably any other man in the county of Monmouth.

The development and advancement of the schools of Red Bank is due more to Mr. Warner than to any other resident of the town. When he was first elected trustee of the Red Bank school district the public school building was a two-story frame building on the Mechanic street school lot. R. VanDyke Reid was principal of the school and Miss Webb was the assistant teacher. Afterward two rooms were hired in Leighton hall on Front street for use as school rooms.

CROWNING OF MARY.

The Annual Ceremony Held at St. James's Church.

The annual ceremony of the crowning of the Virgin Mary at St. James's church was held on Monday night. About forty members of the Sodality took part in the ceremony, all of them being attired in white and wearing white veils. The crowner was Miss Mamie Reilly and the maids of honor were Miss Madge O'Keefe and Miss Mary Minton. The other young women who took a prominent part in the impressive and beautiful ceremony were Miss Mildred Hollywood, Miss Helena Henderson, Miss Anna Taylor, Miss Mamie McNe, Miss Beatrice Dugan, Miss Rose Kelly, Miss Katie Dwyer and Miss Mamie Taylor. The sermon was preached by Rev. Joseph A. Ryan of Bernardsville, New Jersey. Three members were added to the Sodality—Miss Agnes Dwyer, Miss Mamie Hounihan and Miss Nettie Carroll.

A Coming Wedding.

Miss Anna E. Wack, daughter of Adam Wack, and Harry Embley, son of Albert Embley, both of Long Branch, will be married next Sunday at three o'clock at the home of the bride-elect. Mr. Embley is a plumber and is employed at Seabright.

Tickets are now on sale at Ford & Miller's for the entertainment in the Baptist church on the night of Memorial day. This will be one of the most interesting performances ever given in Red Bank. The famous violinist, Miss Ruby Gerard-Braun, an orchestra of 28 pieces and the best local talent will render the program.—Adv.

Euchre and dance at St. James's hall to-night. Over 25 prizes.—Adv.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

To Be Given by the Scholars of the Public Schools.

The Red Bank public schools will observe Memorial day to-morrow afternoon by exercises at the new school building. The exercises will begin at two o'clock. Heretofore it has been the custom for the different schools to hold exercises of that character in their respective buildings, but to-morrow there will be a union of all the schools. The schools will organize at one o'clock and proceed in bodies to the new school-house. The exercises will consist of music by the school orchestra, chorus singing of national airs, recitations by Helen Wolcott, Minnie Casey, Edward Clayton and Ida Smith, scarf drill by girls of the tenth grade, reading by Alma Aul of an essay on General Grant written by Thomas Holland, and piano solo by Ida Smith. It is probable that there will also be addresses by members of Arrow-smith post.

A Long Branch Hotel Sold.

The Rockwell hotel at Long Branch has been sold by Patrick J. Reilly to Otto Vaugoin. The price paid was $14,500.

A DOUBLE AFFLICTION.

GEORGE W. OGILVIE LOSES HIS DAUGHTER AND MOTHER.

Miss Clara Romain Ogilvie Died on Monday and Mrs. Jane Ogilvie Died the Previous Day—Other Recent Deaths.

Clara Romain Ogilvie, only child of George W. Ogilvie of Red Bank, died at her home on Monmouth street on Monday night. She was twenty years old on the third of this month. About nine weeks ago she was taken sick with typhoid fever. The disease appeared to be in a mild form, but as the days passed it took a stronger hold upon the patient. Then she became better, but the improvement was only temporary, and a week ago last Friday she had a sinking spell. Everything was done to save the young woman's life. Two physicians were in almost constant attendance and two trained nurses were by her bedside night and day, but all these efforts were of no avail and she passed away on Monday night at half-past nine o'clock. She was unconscious except for a few short intervals for two weeks preceding her death.

Miss Ogilvie was born in Freehold township. The family has lived at Red Bank for the past twelve years. The hopes of the parents were wrapped up in their daughter, who endeared herself to everyone by her winning ways, her cheerfulness and her sunny disposition. She was a member of the First Methodist Sunday-school and was also a member of the graduating class of 1900 of the Red Bank high school.

The funeral will be held at the house to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. John B. Haines, pastor of the First Methodist church, will have charge of the service. The pall bearers will be her four boy classmates—Archie Brown, James E. Weaver, Howard Cole and Percy Davis.

The occasion is one of double mourning for Mr. Ogilvie, as his mother died on Sunday. She was Jane T. Ogilvie, widow of George Ogilvie of Jamesburg, and she was 82 years old last March. Several years ago she fell and broke her hip and ever since the accident she had been compelled to go about on crutches. Some time ago she was attacked with cancer, which caused her death. Mrs. Ogilvie's funeral was held this morning at ten o'clock and the body was buried at Freehold.

Michael Giblin.

Michael Giblin died of pneumonia yesterday at his home on Locust avenue. He was fifty years old. He had been sick only a week. His wife is sick with the same disease.

Mr. Giblin was born in Ireland but came to this country with his parents when he was six weeks old. He had lived at Red Bank for the past 28 years. His wife was Miss Catherine Griffin, daughter of the late Sarah and James Griffin of Headden's Corner.

Mr. Giblin was an expert horseshoer. He learned the blacksmith trade with his brother-in-law, the late John Hawkins of Red Bank, by whom he was employed many years. Mr. Giblin had worked in William Snyder's shop on Wharf avenue for several years, but for a while past he had been employed by Frank Gray.

Mr. Giblin leaves a daughter and six sons. They are Grace, William, Frank, Harry, Walter, Charles and Harold. Two sisters survive him also, Mrs. John Hawkins, of Irving place and Mrs. Michael McCormick, who lives in Iowa. The funeral will be held at ten o'clock on Friday morning at St. James's church. Rev. Father McDonald will officiate and the body will be buried in Mt. Olivet cemetery at Headden's Corner.

Eugene Fay.

Eugene Fay, a veteran hotel man of Long Branch, died on Saturday of heart disease, aged 73 years. He had been sick with heart disease for some time and his heart was still further weakened a few weeks ago by an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Fay was born at Cott Hill, County Cavan, Ireland. When he was fifteen years old he came to this country with a married sister and located at Trenton. He learned the trade of brass moulder and worked up in the business until he received the highest salary paid to brass moulders in those days. From Trenton Mr. Fay moved to Manchester, in Ocean county.

At Manchester Mr. Fay took the contract for moulding brass for the New Jersey Southern railroad. Rufus Blodgett was master mechanic of the road at that time. In 1868 he gave up the moulding business and bought the Manchester hotel. In 1869, at the time of the strike on the Raritan and Delaware bay railroad, Mr. Fay got a 99-year lease of the road. The road was operated by horse power.

Mr. Fay relinquished his lease of the road and under the reorganization scheme lost all the money that he had invested. During this railroad deal he formed a friendship with Leon Abbe, which lasted until Mr. Abbe's death. Mr. Fay was largely instrumental in laying out the town of Manchester.

In 1872 Mr. Fay moved to Long Branch and opened a restaurant opposite the Southern depot. The following year he built the American hotel. Sixteen years ago he built the National hotel at Long Branch.

Mr. Fay married Miss Catherine McKenna of Dungiven, Ireland, who survives him. Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Fay made a trip to their native homes. Five children survive Mr. Fay. They are Thomas P. Fay, James Fay, Albert Fay, Mrs. Joseph Corbett and Miss Rose Fay.

Mrs. Ada Hitchcock.

Mrs. Ada Hitchcock, widow of Edward Hitchcock, died at Hartford, Connecticut, on Friday. Mrs. Hitchcock was the daughter of James K. Heyer of Col's Neck and was well known at Red Bank and throughout this part of Monmouth county. When she was a young woman she was for several years employed as a compositor in THE REGISTER office.

Mrs. Hitchcock was twice married. Her first husband was William Haviland of Red Bank, by whom she had two daughters. These children are still living and are now ten and twelve years of age. Mr. Haviland died some years ago, and Mrs. Haviland afterward married Edward Hitchcock of New Haven. Since her second marriage she had lived in Connecticut. Her second husband died a few years ago.

Mrs. Hitchcock was 38 years old. Her funeral was held at Hartford on Sunday.

Mrs. Ann Lawton.

Mrs. Ann Lawton, mother of Mrs. Richard Thompson of Herbert street, died on Wednesday, May 14th, at the home of her daughter at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. She was 73 years old. Mrs. Lawton made her home with Mrs. Thompson for a number of years. Her health began to fail some years ago, and it was her desire to end her days in England. She returned to England two years ago last December. Mrs. Thompson did not receive word of her mother's death until this week. Mrs. Lawton's son, Rev. Guy Lawton of Theford Centre, Maine, is a frequent visitor at Red Bank. He preached at the First Methodist church a short time ago.

Timothy Kelly.

Timothy Kelly of Long Branch, brother of John Kelly of Red Bank, died of stomach trouble at the Long Branch hospital on Saturday. He was 27 years old. He was born at Farmingdale and lived there until two years ago when he went to Long Branch to engage in the coal business with his brother. Mr. Kelly was unmarried and lived with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Kelly. Six brothers and two sisters survive Mr. Kelly. The brothers, besides the one mentioned, are Joseph, Andrew and Henry Kelly of Long Branch, Patrick Kelly of Seabright and William Kelly of Oil City, Pennsylvania. The sisters are Mrs. Thomas Riordan of Scobeyville and Mrs. James Brenn of New York.

Mrs. John T. Williams.

Rachel Emeline, wife of John T. Williams of Brooklyn, died suddenly of apoplexy on Tuesday of last week, aged 62 years. She was the daughter of the late William H. Marshall, who lived near Scobeyville. Mrs. Williams leaves four sisters and one brother. They are Mrs. Rufus T. West and Miss Kate A. Marshall of Oceanport, Mrs. B. Jackson Davison of Manasquan, Mrs. William Knapp of Havestraw, New York, and Simon P. Marshall of Pittsburg, Kansas. Mrs. Williams was a member of Dr. Meredith's church at Brooklyn. The funeral was held on Thursday and the body was buried in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Franklin S. Weeks.

Mrs. Franklin S. Weeks of Col's Neck died last Saturday from a complication of diseases, aged 42 years. She had been an invalid for a number of years. A husband and two children survive her. The children are Mrs. Frank Matthews of Nut Swamp and Robert Weeks, who lives at home. Another son, William, died about a year ago as the result of an accident. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at one o'clock at the house and two o'clock at the Holmdel Baptist church.

Mrs. Julius Studnicky.

Josephine, wife of Julius Studnicky of Long Branch, died at the Long Branch hospital on Thursday. Her death was caused by dropsy. Mrs. Studnicky was 41 years old and was born in Germany. She came to this country when a girl and married Mr. Studnicky when she was 21 years old. Shortly after their marriage the couple moved to Long Branch, where they had since lived. Besides her husband she leaves four children.

Mrs. Edward Reynolds.

Mrs. Mary Reynolds, wife of Edward Reynolds of Little Silver, died yesterday morning at the home of her son, Edward Reynolds, at Little Silver. She was 62 years old and her death was due to paralysis. She was taken sick on Wednesday of last week. The son at whose house she died was her only child. The funeral will be held at the house to-morrow morning and the body will be buried in the Little Silver cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Venable.

Mrs. Elizabeth Venable, widow of Isaac Venable of Long Branch, a former resident of Red Bank, died at the Long Branch hospital yesterday from the effects of an operation. She was 72 years old. She was a sister of Charles Twiford of Red Bank. The funeral will be held to-morrow at the home of her son, Edwin Venable of Norwood avenue, Long Branch.

TWENTY-FIVE GRADUATES.

Commencement Exercises to be Held on Tuesday Night, June 17th.

The graduating exercises of the class of 1902 of the Red Bank high school will be held at the new school building on Branch avenue on Tuesday night, June 17th. The class consists of 25 members—ten girls and fifteen boys. The graduates are May C. Ayres, Mary M. Cumberston, Edith R. Hobrough, Bertha Kridel, Carrie Hendrickson Mount, Viola Patterson, Ethel VanZee, Elizabeth Bachert Wenck, Mabel Emslie Wolcott, Mayme Elizabeth Wilbur, Percy David Bennett, J. Lee Enright, Clarence J. Gray, William H. Grover, Joseph Healer, Charles E. Hendrickson, James Harold Holmes, George E. Leukel, William Pedlow, Bayard Throckmorton, Warren VanCleef, Ralph Willguss, Joseph R. Warner, Walter R. Walling, and David Shriver, Jr. Bayard Throckmorton will be the valedictorian and Mayme Wilbur will be the salutatorian. The class motto is "By virtue, not by words," and the class colors are maroon and white. The class day exercises will be held at the same place on the following night.

A FINE PERFORMANCE.

"The Mascot" Well Received by a Large Audience.

"The Mascot" was produced at the Red Bank opera house last night for the benefit of the alumni association. The opera was given under the direction of Prof. H. K. Allstrom and it was well received by an audience that filled the opera house. The principal characters were excellently portrayed and all the singers were in good voice. The chorus was exceptionally good. The costumes, which were engaged for the occasion, were bright and pretty. The gross receipts of the opera amounted to about $300, but on account of the great expense in hiring the costumes and the other incidental expenses of such an undertaking, the net receipts will not exceed $35.

Hattie Schruby Bailed.

A SERMON TO VETERANS.

REV. E. J. KULP PREACHES TO ARROWSMITH POST.

Communion Service to be Held in the Churches Next Sunday—Strawberry and Ice Cream Festivals—Other Church News.

Rev. E. J. Kulp, pastor of Grace church, preached a sermon on Sunday night to the Grand Army post of Red Bank. Nineteen members of the post attended the service. They wore their regalia and white gloves. An American flag was draped on the church pulpit. Mr. Kulp's text was "Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." The church was filled and the sermon was an appreciative one. During the service Mrs. Warren H. Smock sang a solo.

A preparatory lecture and meeting of the session will be held at the Shrewsbury Presbyterian church on Saturday night. On Sunday morning the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered. Rev. Samuel D. Price will preach at the Eatontown Presbyterian church at night on "Stones of Witness."

Communion service will be held at the First Methodist church next Sunday morning. At night the pastor, Rev. John B. Haines, will preach a Memorial day sermon. There will be special music at both services.

Communion will be observed at the Red Bank Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. Rev. S. H. Thompson will preach on "Behold the Lamb of God."

Next Sunday night in the Baptist church Rev. W. B. Matteson will preach the last of the series of sermons on "The Reformation." The subject will be "Gustavus Adolphus and the establishment of Protestantism."

A strawberry and ice cream festival will be held to-morrow afternoon and evening in the lecture room of the First Methodist church. Homemade bread and cake will be on sale.

The Epworth league meeting at the First Methodist church next Sunday night will be led by Mrs. George A. Longstreet. The subject is "The purpose of His coming."

The meeting of the foreign missionary society of the First Methodist church has been postponed till next Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. James H. Sickle's on Mechanic street.

A strawberry and ice cream festival will be given next Tuesday night for the benefit of Trinity church in the chapel and on the lawn.

No prayer meeting service will be held at Grace church to-night on account of the dedication of the new school building.

Children's day will be celebrated on Sunday, June 8th.

A Pole Arrested.

A Pole who had been loitering about Col's Neck for several days and acting in a strange manner was arrested on Saturday by Constable Strong. When the Pole saw the officer he ran across the fields toward McKay's woods. Andrew McKay, Sr., was working in the vicinity. He grabbed the Pole and held him until the officer caught up with the procession. Recently the Pole visited the farm house of Charles Campbell and while the women folks were upstairs he helped himself to all the delicacies that the larder afforded. The Pole was taken to Freehold.

Frank E. Heyer Injured.

Frank E. Heyer of Col's Neck was handling logs last Friday when one of the logs rolled against him and injured his knee. He can get about only with the aid of crutches.

Horses! Horses!

Another carload of horses arrived at Holmdel to-day. In the lot are three extra good road horses, afraid of nothing, can step in 2:50; two horses that can step in 2:35 or better; five matched teams, well broken and ready for use; and horses for any purpose. Call and look them over. My stables will be closed on Decoration day after twelve o'clock. Wm. C. Ely, Holmdel, N. J.—Adv.

The children were served with refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake, candy, fruit and ice cream. Grace Carhart gave several selections on the piano.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wolcott Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wolcott of Long Branch City celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Thursday. The occasion was also the birthday of Mrs. Mary J. Cook, a daughter of the aged couple. Mrs. Wolcott was formerly Miss Deborah Wells. The couple were married at Long Branch on May 22d, 1853, by Rev. F. A. Morrell. They have three children and four grandchildren. The children are Evelyn Wardell, Alice Cobb and Mary J. Cook. The grandchildren are Isabella and Myron Wardell, John Clinton Cobb and Orae May Cook. Mrs. Wolcott is one year older than her husband, who is 77 years old. Mr. Wolcott suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago and he is quite weak. Among those who attended the celebration on Thursday were Mrs. Wolcott's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Woolley, and Mrs. Frances Dangler, both of whom attended the wedding fifty years ago. Mrs. Woolley was her sister's bridesmaid and Mrs. Dangler was an infant and was taken there by her mother.

CAPT. J. A. WORTHLEY SICK.

He is Under a Doctor's Care at Denver, Colorado.

Capt. John Abbott Worthley of Red Bank is sick at Denver, Colorado. He left home for a Western trip five weeks ago. After traveling through California he started on his eastward journey home. While at San Francisco he was taken with a severe cold, which settled on his lungs and caused congestion. Last week he stopped at Colorado Springs and did some mountain climbing. This strain aggravated matters and his heart became affected. He continued on to Denver, where he had to call in a physician. On Monday his wife received a telegram notifying her of her husband's sickness. Another telegram has since been received saying that Mr. Worthley was improving. On Monday afternoon Capt. Worthley's son William and Ed. G. Fraser of Red Bank started for Denver to be with the captain. They will arrive at Denver to-morrow night.

CHARLES KAHLE'S RUNAWAY.

Charles Kahle of Red Bank sells butter, eggs, tea, coffee and spices throughout the county from a wagon. He was at Seabright on Friday afternoon and tied his team along the street. A small boy with a bean shooter happened along and could not resist the temptation to take a shot at one of the horses. The boy's aim was good and the shot went straight to the mark. The horses got frightened, broke loose and ran away. They collided with another rig and both wagons were badly damaged. Butter, eggs, tea, coffee and spices were mixed up into a regular omelette. The loss of the goods amounted to about $100, besides the damage to the wagon.

OCEANPORT'S BOSS FISHERMAN.

Edward Roswell Catches Eels, a Weakfish and Soft Crabs.

Edward Roswell is the boss fisherman of Oceanport. On Sunday he tried his luck at Little Silver point. He had only two shadders for bait, but he caught twelve eels and a weakfish. The eels weighed five pounds and the weakfish weighed two pounds. It is unusually early for weakfish, which do not ordinarily make their appearance in the rivers in these parts until the latter part of June. On Monday Mr. Roswell caught a dozen good-sized soft crabs in the river near Oceanport.

A Game of Basketball.

St. James's young Crackjacks played a game of basketball at Eatontown on Thursday with the Crescent Five of that place. The Red Bankers won the game by a score of 16 to 4. Those who played on the Red Bank team were Edward Hounihan, captain; William Lane, manager; Harold Lippincott, Arthur Dillett, and William Kelly. The Eatontown players were Matthew Byrnes, John Bruzzer, Stanley VanBrunt, Lester Haynes and Ward Demorest.

HOLLYWOOD LOCAL UNION.

The Quarterly Meeting to Be Held at Long Branch.

The quarterly meeting of the Hollywood local union of Christian Endeavor will be held at the Long Branch Reformed church next Monday night. Rev. Daniel H. Martin of Newark will be the speaker. His theme will be "A Life That Counts."

A special meeting of the union will be held at the Fort Hancock Methodist church the latter part of next month. Rev. E. J. Kulp, pastor of Grace church of Red Bank, will address this meeting. The delegates from the different societies in the union will go to Highland Beach by stages and a special train will convey them from Highland Beach to Fort Hancock.

THE REGISTER is $1.50 a year.—Adv.

WON'T FOLLOW ADVICE AFTER PAYING FOR IT.

In a recent article a prominent physician says, "It is next to impossible for the physician to get his patients to carry out any prescribed course of hygiene or diet to the smallest extent; he has but one resort left, namely, the drug treatment." When medicines are used for chronic constipation, the most mild and gentle obtainable, such as Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets, should be employed. Their use is not followed by constipation as they leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. A. Minton & Co., Druggists, 4 Broad street, Red Bank.

Pennsylvania Railroad Reduced Rates to Minneapolis or St. Paul, Account National Meeting, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

On account of the National Meeting, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at Minneapolis, Minn., June 3d to 8th, the Pennsylvania railroad company will sell excursion tickets from all stations on its lines to Minneapolis or St. Paul, May 31st, to June 2d, good to return not earlier than June 3d, and not later than June 9th, at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be good for return passage only when executed by joint agent at St. Paul or Minneapolis and payment of 25 cents made for this service. By depositing ticket with joint agent not earlier than June 3d nor later than June 9th, and payment of 50 cents at time of deposit, an extension of return limit may be obtained to leave St. Paul or Minneapolis not later than July 7th.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

For Coughs and Colds in Children.
"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Charles M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by C. A. Minton & Co., Druggists, 4 Broad street, Red Bank, N. J.

KINDLING WOOD FOR SALE.
I have a large quantity of kindling wood at my saw mill, which I will sell, delivered at Red Bank, or near there, at twenty cents per barrel, six barrels for a dollar. Daniel B. Cook, Tinton Falls, N. J.

Every person in the county is invited to inspect thoroughly each and every department of the # Largest Department Store on the Coast.

As we were unable to secure our usual Special Trains, we have prepared offerings such as will more than prepay all for the trip. We want every man, woman and child in the county to attend this Opening. Free Ice Cream Soda at the New Mammoth for everyone. Special souvenirs for the children. We've been planning for this occasion for several months.

In order that you may fully appreciate our new departure we are offering in every department special bargains at special prices, on which you can readily realize there is no profit. We are prepared to lose several thousand dollars at this time simply to demonstrate the desirability of the goods we carry, and that it is to your advantage to do your shopping in the stores of the Steinbach Company.

Prices Quoted are for Saturday, May 31st, and Monday, June 2d, Only.

Our new Electric Light Plant will be formally opened on Saturday afternoon and evening. The public is cordially invited to inspect the plant and enjoy the display.

WASH GOODS

The recent cool weather somewhat frightened one of the manufacturers of fine Dimities and Batistes; afraid they would not be sold. We purchased at our price; yours is the gain. Dimities; 10 yards for 35c., well worth 75c; Ruby Batiste, 5c worth 9c; Striped Batiste and Plaid Batiste at 10c worth 15c; Cotton Crash, special at 34c; Dimity plain and figured, at 10c; Swiss worth 18c at 124c; Gingham worth 10c at 6c; White Cord Pique 10c worth 15c.

TABLE LINENS

You'll be well repaid, indeed, if you visit the Linen Department on the days of the opening. There are so many new things to show that it is impossible to speak of all here. Just a few, come, see them all.

Table Linen, worth 50c at 35c. Napkins—the $1.00 kind at 75c; the 90c kind at 65c; the $1.10 kind at 89c; the $1.25 kind at $1.00. Table Cloths of the "New Mercerized Linen," 65c worth 89c; 50c worth 75c. Special Towels, regular $1.25 at $1.00 a dozen; regular $1.00 at 75c a dozen; regular $1.50 at 98c.

SILKS

By taking the entire stock of the balance of this season's Silk Foulards from a manufacturer who had overestimated the demand, we are enabled to offer an exclusive line of exquisite silks at prices which would almost force one to doubt the quality. An inspection will prove our claim of excellence.

Foulard Silks, 39c, worth 75c; Louise Silks, black and white only, at 85c for the $1.25 grade; 75c for the 98c grade; 59c for the 85c grade; Liberty Satin, 55c for the 85c grade; Black Duchesse Satin, 50c, worth 98c. Special, Black Moire 65c, worth 98c.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Seasonable and reasonable are the specials in our House Furnishing Department.

Decorated Toilet Sets at $1.48; Fancy China Dinner Sets, 112 pieces, open stock patterns, any piece may be duplicated, at $5.98, special. From an auction sale of a fine quality Granite Ware we are prepared to offer a line of cottage and hotel goods at much below wholesale prices, such as 6-quart Sauce Pans at 25c; Rice Boilers at 39c; large Pails at 50c.

FURNITURE

A CHANCE FOR CASH CUSTOMERS—A 10 per cent discount will be allowed on every cash purchase in the Furniture department on the days of the opening. Here are a few of the choicest "snaps": 24-inch tables at 98c; Porch Rockers, large arm, high back, double woven seat, $1.95; Porch Rockers, extra wide seat, high back, in all colors, at $2.65.

MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING

The item of cost has been entirely disregarded in the marking of the offerings in the Clothing department for the special days. A glance at these items will substantiate this statement.

Boys' Knee Pants, 19c; Boys' Knee Pants, 49c, worth 75c; Boys' Blouse Wash Suits, 43c; Boys' Sailor Blouse Flannel Suits, $1.19; Boys' Sailor Blouse Flannel Suits, $1.48; Boys' "Vestee" Suits, were $3.50, now $1.48; Boys' "Vestee" Suits, were $4.98, now $1.98; Boys' Bicycle Suits, were $4.98, now $2.29. Baseballs given with each Suit at the New Mammoth.

No Grants of Public Property.

The Tintern water company has applied to the town for the privilege of laying water mains on East Front street for the distance of 702 feet. The REGISTER does not believe that public property should be given over to the use of corporations, unless the public is to receive some special public benefit, and not even then unless the public is properly compensated for the use of the property.

In the case of the Tintern water company, the town of Red Bank can receive no possible benefit from the laying of these mains. The folly of giving up public property for the use of corporations is seen in a moment when it is contrasted with private property. No corporation would be so foolish as to ask a private owner of land to be allowed to appropriate part of his property. Yet so accustomed has the public become to demands from corporations for the use of public property, and so accustomed has the public become to the giving away of valuable public rights, that many people look upon these grants with complaisance. It is perhaps natural that those who expect to get compensation, directly or indirectly, from the corporations favored, should give all possible aid to their schemes; but from the standpoint of public good these grants of public property should be strenuously opposed.

The Tintern water company, if it wishes to go through any part of the town of Red Bank, should buy a right of way through private property. Not a foot of public property should be given up to the use of any corporation, except where such use confers a public benefit. No such condition exists in the present case, and the commissioners should refuse to grant the water company's request.

MARLBORO'S BAPTISTS.

They Change the Hour of Services and Elect New Officers.

The hours for the service at the Marlboro Baptist church have been changed for the summer. Sunday-school will be held at half-past nine o'clock and the regular preaching service at half-past ten o'clock in the morning. The Christian Endeavor meeting will be held at quarter past seven o'clock and the prayer meeting and regular Sunday evening service at quarter of eight o'clock.

A business meeting of the church was held last Wednesday night and these officers were elected:

Deacon—O. C. Herbert.
Treasurer—Mrs. Joseph Richmond.
Clerk—Charles Layton.
Trustees—John Helsor, H. P. Hayward.

EUCHE PARTY AND DANCE.

It Will Be Given by the Young Ladies' Sodality To-Night.

The Sodality society of St. James's church will give a progressive euche party and dance at St. James's hall to-night. The affair will be under the management of Mrs. James E. Degnan. Upwards of 25 prizes have been provided. The prizes include a handsome sofa pillow, silver chandelier bag, silk parasol, silver match safe, pair of patent leather Colonial ties, military brushes, silk suspenders and a large variety of gold and silver novelties. The affair will begin at half-past eight o'clock.

No License for Michael Rowland.

Michael Rowland of the Highlands pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the illegal sale of liquor. He was fined $250. His application for a renewal of his license was refused.

A Shoulder Blade Broken.

James Cole, a carpenter, fell from the Hollywood golf club building while at work on Monday and broke his shoulder blade. He was taken to the Long Branch hospital.

Base for Lake Topanemus.

The state fish and game commissioners have placed 500 black bass in lake Topanemus at Freehold.

The large number of want advertisements which THE REGISTER contains is an evidence of their benefit to the advertisers.—Adv.

Progressive euche and dance at St. James's hall to-night. Handsome prizes, etc.—Adv.

TOWN TALK.

An effort is being made to create jealousy among the shore towns because Long Branch was the town selected for the branch court house. What the shore towns want is a court house in some convenient town along shore, and they are not very particular as to what town it is.

Some of the Freehold papers, too, are calling it a piece of extravagance which the people won't stand, for the freeholders to have gone to the expense of $2,000 a year for the rent of a branch court house. As the freeholders will spend about $800,000 this year, an expenditure of $2,000 for something the shore people want very bad isn't likely to create very much antagonism against the freeholders. The only objection to the expenditure comes from a few of the Freehold people themselves, and they oppose it, not because they care anything about the expense, but because they want to compel the shore residents to keep on going to Freehold to transact their court business.

STORCK'S ROAD RACES.

A Big Number of Entries in the Sixteen Mile Race.

Entries for Storck's road races on Decoration day are being received daily and there promises to be a good field of starters. The races scheduled are a sixteen-mile handicap, a one mile handicap, a quarter-mile sprint for boys, a slow man's race and a firemen's quarter-mile obstacle race. In the slow race the prize goes to the person riding a quarter of a mile in the slowest time. The rider must not take his feet from the pedals, must ride in a straight course and must keep moving all the time. In the obstacle race obstacles are placed in the way of the riders and the prize goes to the person who makes the quarter mile in the quickest time by either riding around the obstacles or carrying his wheel over them. The slow race and the obstacle race would be of little interest if there were not a good field of starters and unless a number of entries are received these events will not take place.

The sixteen-mile race promises to be the best event of the day and already a very large number of entries have been received for this race. The course will be from Red Bank to Little Silver, to Shrewsbury, to Grace church, three times around.

"HAPPY CAL." AT STORCK'S.

An Entertainment This Afternoon and To-Night.

Cal. Stewart, who is known as "Happy Cal.," and who makes records for the Columbia phonograph company under the name of "Uncle Josh," is giving an entertainment at Storck's piano store this afternoon and he will also give an entertainment to-night at seven o'clock. Mr. Stewart has a worldwide reputation as a relator of humorous experiences in the Yankee dialect. An exhibition of record making will be given by Mr. Stewart.

A LODGE'S SILVER JUBILEE.

Long Branch's Royal Arcanum Will be 25 Years Old Next Month.

The Long Branch Royal Arcanum lodge will celebrate its 25th jubilee on June 22d. The lodge now has 234 members and an effort will be made to increase the membership to 250 by the time the silver jubilee is held. One of the new members of the lodge is the son of one of the charter members and he was born on the very day the lodge was organized. The lodge intends to have a big celebration on its 25th birthday.

SPORT AT SEABRIGHT.

Re-Organization of the Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club.

The Seabright lawn tennis and cricket club, which has been lying dormant for several years, has been re-organized. The new officers are Cecil Barrett, president; S. S. Auchincloss, secretary; and Dr. Bayard Clark, treasurer. The grounds are located on the Rumson road near Seabright and are being put in good condition. Games will be played there the coming season and various prizes will be offered.

A Sister Has Brother Arrested.

Last week Addie Beldo of Red Bank made complaint before Justice Sickles against her brother George, whom she charged with assault and battery. George was held for the grand jury. George then made a complaint against Thomas Richardson, charging him with using profane language. Richardson was required to hand $5.25 over to the justice. The fine was paid by Richardson's mother.

If you miss the entertainment at the Baptist church on the night of Memorial day you'll miss one of the finest musical treats ever given in Red Bank. Miss Ruby Gerard-Brown, the famous violinist, and an orchestra of 28 pieces will be two of the attractions. Tickets on sale at Ford & Miller's.—Adv.

A CHURCH LIGHTHOUSE.

Charleston, S. C., Has the Only One in the World.

The only church in the world so far as is known that is also a lighthouse is St. Philip's church, Charleston, S. C. St. Philip's, which is one of the oldest churches in America, is known as the "Westminster abbey of South Carolina," because within and about its walls so many distinguished men lie buried, including John C. Calhoun. The history of the old church is closely interwoven with that of South Carolina, and many of the most celebrated events in the history of the province are connected with it.

It is one of the sights of Charleston, and strangers are always taken to see it and shown its graves and monuments.

The most remarkable feature of the old church, however, is the fact that its lofty steeple serves the purpose of a lighthouse and is used to guide the seafarer and mariner safely into the port of Charleston. The use of the steeple as a lighthouse dates back to 1894, when the United States Lighthouse department succeeded by dint of repeated efforts in inducing the vestry of the old church to allow a lantern to be placed in the upper story of the steeple to be used as a range light for vessels entering the harbor through the jetties at its mouth.

The light used is very powerful and is placed at an altitude of about 125 feet above the ground, so that it is easily visible thirty miles at sea. Ships making for Charleston harbor at night always keep a sharp lookout for St. Philip's light and as soon as they sight it get it into line with the beacon on Fort Sumter and then make a straight-away run for the mouth of the jetties and up through them into the harbor of Charleston.

St. Philip's church steeple is considered one of the handsomest architectural features in the world and always attracts the eye of strangers entering Charleston from the sea by its commanding height and artistic proportions.

Natural History.

There are forty-eight different kinds of house fly known and classified.

The pig is the only domestic animal in which no case of cancer has been noted.

The Spanish mackerel is one of the fastest of food fishes and cuts the water like a yacht.

Fish swallow their food whole because they are obliged to keep continually opening and closing the mouth for the purpose of respiration.

Slime cats, both in appearance and character, closely resemble pug dogs. Even their tails have the curious curl so familiar in these stolid dogs.

Animals are found to be subject to hypnotic influence. Lobsters, it is said, can be hypnotized by standing them on their heads five or ten minutes.

There is no wild breed of fowl to which the Brahma or Cochon can be traced. The gamecock seems to be descended from the Cingalese jungle fowl.

The flesh fly produces about 20,000 young in a season. The larvae are hatched almost instantly from the egg and at once begin their work of destruction.

A Contrast.

"Papa, who is that gentleman over there on the porch?"

"Don't you remember him, my child? He is the gentleman we met in the restaurant today who chatted so pleasantly with us while he waited about twenty-five minutes for his lunch."

"He doesn't seem very pleasant now, papa."

"Oh, no. He's at home now. See him tearing the newspaper into shreds and trying to throw his hat through the door. He is very angry because it has taken his wife a little over four minutes to get his supper ready."

A Hindoo Superstition.

When visits are exchanged by the friends of the Hindoo bride and groom to complete arrangements for the wedding, great attention is paid to omens, which are considered especially potent then. For instance, if the groom's messengers should meet a cat, a fox or a serpent they turn back and seek a more propitious time for the errand. After the bride's father has received the offer he must delay replying until one of the ubiquitous lizards in his house has chirped.

Ingalls on Butter.

Many years ago, when John J. Ingalls, the brilliant Kansan, was a member of the senate, oleomargarine was a bone of contention. The debate led Ingalls to utter one of those epigrammatic sentences which made him famous. "I have never, to my knowledge, tasted oleomargarine," said Ingalls, "but I have stood in the presence of genuine butter with awe for its strength and reverence for its antiquity."

He Wanted Plain Scales.

"We are turning out some very elaborate scales," said the agent—"some that will attract the attention of your customers."

"Do you suppose I want my customers to watch the scales?" asked the surprised butcher. "Give me the plainest style you have."

No Place For Kings.

An American battleship once had a visit from the king of Italy. The gorgeous apparel of the king and his suit, splendid in gold lace and decorations, filled the sailors with awe. During the inspection one of the magnificent members of the suit stepped backward and disappeared. No one missed him, and there were no witnesses to his misadventure save a weather beaten tar, who leaned against the rail with a grin of huge enjoyment on his face. At last he went up to the officer of the deck and said, as he jerked his thumb over his shoulder, "One of them kings fell down the hatch, sir."

The Small Boy's Plan.

"Willie," she said, "if you eat any more of those preserves I'll give you a whipping."

"You wouldn't whip a sick boy, would you?" he asked pathetically.

"Of course not."

"Then I'll eat enough to make me sick."

Some boy has a bicycle who would rather have a gun.

Some other boy has a gun but would rather have a bicycle.

Boy No. 1 does not know anything about Boy No. 2.

Boy No. 2 does not know anything about Boy No. 1.

A want advertisement in THE REGISTER would bring these two boys together so that a trade would be made and each boy would get what he would rather have.

Think about this suggestion. Perhaps at an expense of 25 cents you can trade a lot of things you don't want for a lot of things you do want.

One reason why it pays so well to advertise in THE REGISTER is because so many people take the paper. There is hardly a family in all this part of Monmouth county where THE REGISTER is not the favorite family paper.

Charges Not Sustained.

Dr. D. McLean Forman of Freehold was tried before the Monmouth medical society at the Long Branch hospital on Monday on a charge of having held consultation with Dr. Ackerman of Asbury Park, a homeopathic physician. From the standpoint of an allopath a homeopath is not a regular practitioner and consultation with them is forbidden. Dr. Forman was exonerated by the society.

An Elevator Damaged.

An employe in W. A. French & Co.'s stepped off the elevator on the ground floor one day last week without putting on the brake. The elevator shot to the top floor and was badly damaged. The wood work of the elevator shaft was also damaged.

Fine Literary Service.

My stock of good road horses and comfortable carriages was never better than it is this season. I have rigs suitable for every sort of service, from a single buggy to a fine coach. Whether a man wants a rig for a pleasure drive, or for a quick business trip, or a closed carriage for a social event, he can be accommodated at my place. Reliable drivers are furnished when desired. Prices are reasonable. S. Ketcham.—Adv.

THE TELLTALE THUMB.

Its Marks and Lines and Its Signal From the Brain.

A tremendous amount of nonsense has been written about thumb marks. It is claimed that the curious skin configuration on the ball of the thumb is never the same in any two people and that it never changes. The first statement is correct, and the same thing can be said of the lines on the palm and the creases on the bottom of the feet. But the assertion that the thumb marks never change throughout life is a decided exaggeration. The alteration may come from a variety of causes—anything, in fact, that will destroy the outer layer of skin.

Another modifying cause is the tendency of the thumb to develop little horizontal creases as one grows old. This is especially true of mechanics and other working people who use tools, and eventually the creases will break up the lines to such an extent that it is equivalent almost to a rearrangement of the pattern. Specialists in nerve diseases by an examination of the thumb can tell if the patient is affected or likely to be affected by paralysis, as the thumb signals this long before it is visible in any other part of the body. If the danger symptoms are evidenced there, an operation is performed on what is known as the "thumb center" of the brain, and the disorder is often removed.

No matter how carefully the individual may attempt to conceal incipient insanity, the thumb will reveal it infallibly. It is the one sure test. If the patient in his daily work permits the thumb to stand at a right angle to the other fingers or to fall listless into the palm, taking no part in his writing, his handling of things, his multifarious duties, but standing isolated and sulky, it is an unanswerable confession of mental disease.

Lack of Tact.

There are many very good people, people of irreproachable character, who are never liked because of their want of tact. They are hospitable and like to entertain, but they ask known enemies to a little family dinner. They expose all their little household economies to their guests. They never "spill a story for relation's sake." If guests are of different religions or politics, they introduce the subjects and give most decided views which do not convince and only irritate. A lady is told that her hat is unbecoming or a man that he made a bad speech. They never have any appreciation of the fitness of things.

Tact is of great importance if one would be agreeable or retain friends. A man without tact can never exert a strong influence. He can never become a great leader. Tact is needed in every calling in life.

Life Insurance People.

"Life insurance people are queer," observed the man with the incandescent beard. "Are they?" asked the man who is introduced at this point for the purpose of leading up to the next line. "Yes. First they convince you that you may die within a week in order to get you to apply for a policy, and then they must convince themselves that you will live a hundred years before they will issue it."

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

The Limit Reached.

(From the Long Branch Record.) No one can blame the citizens of Freehold for their desire to have all the court business transacted at that town. The people who were drawn there were a source of considerable revenue.

Neither can the people of Freehold blame the residents of the eastern portion of the county for their desire to have a branch court in this section.

The people in this end of the county have for a long time, with great patience and at great inconvenience, paid tribute to the sentiments and demands of Freehold.

The shore section has no desire to rob Freehold of either patronage or prestige. It merely wants fair treatment and their reasonable acquiescence in a just demand. This demand would be fully met by a branch court.

If this concession is denied, then the citizens of the inland townships may be assured that a new court will be created if it takes ten years to do it. The residents of the shore district have reached the limit.

Hahne & Co.'s Re-Organization Sale—On another page of this issue Messrs. Hahne & Co. of Newark announce a re-organization sale, which began Monday, May 20th. It is one of the greatest sales of merchandise ever held in the state, and it is doubtful if so grand an opportunity has ever been offered to the people of this part of the state. Every one of the 100 departments will contribute to make this event of intense interest to every person in the community. The immense stocks of home and personal needs are new and up-to-date, and equal to any shown by the big stores in New York. In many departments stocks are larger and better, while prices are much lower than in New York. Special attention is given to out of town shoppers. The public is invited to make use of the large and comfortable mezzanine floors or reception rooms, where every comfort and convenience is at their disposal.

On Thursday morning and afternoon there will be a grand concert by Newark's most famous band. During this sale Messrs. Hahne & Co. make free deliveries to all railroad stations in New Jersey and Greater New York.

A Tribute to Mrs. Andrew Moore.

Mrs. Andrew Moore, who died at Philadelphia two weeks ago, was a summer resident of Red Bank and had relatives and many friends here. The following article in connection with her death was published by the Phoenixville Republican of May 15th:

Mrs. Andrew Moore, formerly of Phoenixville and for the last few years a resident of the Northern section of Philadelphia, died at her beautiful home near Broad street, on Tuesday morning last.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the Houlban family, so long and favorably known to this community. She was a devoted wife and a fond mother. If there ever was in this life a woman whose goodness for her home was idealistic, it was Mrs. Andrew Moore, who spent her last in Philadelphia on the morning of the thirteenth. All that heart could wish in this world was hers. A husband whose affection was ever on the increase, and whose whole world aside of business, was encompassed by the four walls of his home on Park avenue, and a daughter of tender years, whose innocent prattles and childish laugh constituted much of the dearest of earth's enjoyments which helped to make earth a thing of joy, were all hers.

To give up a true, good and kind husband, to sever herself from a daughter now blossoming into innocent childhood and leave an ideal home where a triple vision of hearts was extended, was the supreme sacrifice Mrs. Andrew Moore had to undergo on the morning of Tuesday last. Life was given up. A stricken husband and cherished child now alone remain to grieve over the departure of a Christian mother from this life.

Mrs. Moore was a woman of rare intelligence, and it can be said with truth, that the life of a very good woman was ended when Mrs. Andrew Moore breathed her last.

Proposals.

Sealed proposals for the construction of a stone macadam road in the townships of Marlboro and Holmdel, in the county of Monmouth, running from the village of Holmdel westerly over the present road by way of Hillsdale to Bradevelt and the county road that leads from Freehold to Matawan, 3 1/2-100 miles, will be received by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of said county at the Court House in Freehold, on Wednesday, June 11th, 1902, at 12 o'clock (noon) of said day, and then publicly opened and read. Plans and specifications for the construction of said road may be procured at the office of the County Collector at Freehold or of Peter Foreman, engineer, Manalapan, N. J. Proposals must be made upon and by the blank forms attached to the specifications. Each proposal must be accompanied with the bidder's bond with sureties satisfactory to the Board of Chosen Freeholders and made payable to their order in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) and conditioned, that if the contract is awarded to him, he will when required thereby by the Board execute his agreement in writing to faithfully perform the work strictly in conformity with the plans and specifications, and abide by and fulfill all of the requirements of the specifications. The right to reject any or all bids is hereby reserved.

Dated May 14th, 1902.

WANT TO SELL OUT.

Eaton Company Desirous of Selling the Hat Factory.

The building and improvement company of Eatontown held a meeting on Thursday night to confer with a Boston manufacturing concern with reference to the sale of the hat factory building. The building and improvement company owns the factory building, which has been unoccupied since the manufacture of hats there was stopped. The company which wants to buy the building has been experimenting with a new process for making patent leather. It is said that the scheme is no longer an experiment, but that the process has been fully perfected. The old tanning factory at Eatontown is now used by the company. The building and improvement company named the price at which it would sell its factory building, and the other company will consider the offer.

FINED FOR SWEARING.

Eight Swear Words Cost George Riley Four Dollars.

George Riley of Red Bank was arrested yesterday on complaint of William Jeffrey for using profane language. Jeffrey claimed that Riley uttered eight swear words. According to the penalty prescribed by law, a swear word is worth fifty cents to the poor fund of the township in which the swear word is spoken, provided the man who says the swear word is arrested for the offense. Riley was given the full penalty and had to pay four dollars for uttering the eight swear words. Besides he was required to pay $3.45 extra in costs, making the whole amount of his fine $7.45.

West Side Lots Sold.

During the past week Theodore F. White has sold two lots on Sunset avenue at West Side. The lots are each 50x150 feet in size. One was bought by Horace Vine, who is employed by Frank C. Storck, for $225, and the other was bought by Mrs. William Dressler for $180. The buyers will immediately begin the building of houses on their properties.

Italians in a Fight.

Two Red Bank Italians got in a fight on Sunday. One of them was Nunzio Prestifilippo and the other was Santo Cardamone. Prestifilippo claimed that Cardamone hit him in the head with his fist. Cardamone was arrested and given a hearing before Justice Sickles, who held him for his appearance before the grand jury.

Deeds Recorded.

A Few Points For Smokers

The Searchlight, Perfectos and Joel Parker cigars are made at my factory. Therefore I can recommend them to smokers. They are five-cent cigars and are as good, if not better, than plenty of cigars that sell for ten cents.

I also sell the five-cent cigars which have been so extensively advertised recently in the New York papers. These include the Lillian Russell, Cubanola, George W. Child, Franklin and Oremo. I sell them at both wholesale and retail.

If you want a nice free-smoking Porto Rico cigar I would advise you to try the El Toro, made up in Brevas shape. These are unquestionably the best five-cent cigars imported from the West Indies.

Everything for Smokers' Use.

STEAM LAUNDRY

Brighton Avenue, West End, N. J.

To the residents of Hollywood, West End, Long Branch and Vicinity:

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE HOLLYWOOD HOTEL take pleasure in announcing that they have completely overhauled and added several modern machines to their laundry plant, making it the most modern and up-to-date laundry on the coast.

The laundry will be conducted by their superintendent of last season, who gave such entire satisfaction as to quality of work turned out. It is their intention to operate the laundry the year round, thus making it one of the home industries of West End.

We are prepared to take laundry work of all description, and guarantee first-class work and prompt delivery. You will find our prices the same as those charged by the laundries of New York City.

We would respectfully call your attention to our Family Work Department; we are sure it will prove a great convenience, especially to the summer residents. We take your entire family wash, iron the bed and table linen ready for use, starch the pieces that require it, sending all home sweet and clean, leaving the starched pieces and underwear to be ironed at home. Five cents a pound is all we ask for this work. This rate does not include shirts, shirtwaists, nor collars and cuffs, which are charged for at list prices. This plan saves you from all the disagreeable features and half the expense of having the washing done in the house.

Owing to the fact that each one of these family washes are handled separately, none of the goods will be marked unless patrons so desire, thus assuring patrons the same privacy they would have in their own homes.

Hoping that you will give us a share of your patronage and thanking you in advance, we remain,

Yours respectfully,

A Birthday Surprise Party—Preparing for Children's Day.

Miss Lillie Sanborn, daughter of J. A. Sanborn, received a surprise visit from a company of friends on Wednesday night in celebration of her birthday. Dancing was the principal amusement of the evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Griggs and their daughter, Miss Katie Griggs, Mrs. Albert Applegate and her daughter Maud, Miss Carrie Antonides, Miss Ella Pope, Miss Jessie Bowman, Miss Edith Woolley, Miss Bessie Fenton, Miss Ella Curtis, George Bray, David Soffel, Benjamin Shoemaker, Charles Smock, James Lane, Edward and Harvey Little and Jesse Bennett. Henry Fenton and William Pope furnished the music.

Work has been begun by Lemuel Sutherland on the painting of the Baptist chapel. Children's day exercises will be held at the chapel a week from next Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. B. Matteson of Red Bank will be present at the Children's day service and make an address. This will be the beginning of regular preaching services by Mr. Matteson during the summer.

James Bray, Jr., has rented three of the market stalls that are being built by Mrs. Atkins of Red Bank on the site of the old market. Mr. Bray has the first three stalls next to the office of Atkins & Conk's livery stable. He pays $7.50 for each stall for the season.

Emma Conover, daughter of John R. Conover, entertained a company of her youthful friends at a May party on Saturday afternoon. Outdoor games were played and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Frank Johnson of Tinton Falls and her daughter Addie have been spending several days with Mrs. Johnson's sister, Mrs. James Bray, Jr.

Fred Mouser has given up his position as farmer for Mrs. Douglass and is making cans in Stout's canning factory at Red Bank.

Charles T. Allen of Oceanic spent Thursday with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Fenton.

Joseph Tomlinson has given his big mastiff to Mr. Slavin of the Newman Springs hotel.

Mrs. Gilbert Worthley of Little Silver spent Friday with Mrs. Abram Sanborn.

Miss Emma Thompson has an attack of malaria.

MIDDLETOWN VILLAGE NEWS.

A Trip to Little Silver—Rain Benefits the Strawberry Crop.

A company of young women and young men of this place visited Miss Lippincott of Little Silver on Monday night. The trip was made in two carriages. Miss Lippincott's guests were Miss Marie Conover, Miss Nellie Spader, Miss Annie Hankins, Miss Jessie Bowne, Cecil Conover, Harry Lufburrow and Lester Conover.

The rain which fell yesterday was greatly needed by the farmers. Strawberries were feeling the effects of the dry weather and the rain has been specially beneficial to that crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Naser and Miss Minnie Casey of Red Bank, Harry Casey of New York and Miss Lizzie Casey and Warren Conklin of Ocean Grove spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Casey.

The prayer meeting of the Baptist Christian Endeavor society last Sunday night was led by Mrs. W. H. J. Parker. There will be no preaching service in the church next Sunday.

Mrs. Sarah Hopson of Red Hill celebrated her sixtieth birthday on Thursday night. About thirty guests were present and they enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mrs. E. C. VanCleaf of Asbury Park and Mrs. Mary Lanning of Trenton spent part of last week with Mrs. Richard Lufburrow.

George Sheldon of Brooklyn spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William C. Story.

John C. Osborne of New York spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Hendrickson.

Miss Flossie Allen, who has been very sick with malarial fever, is slowly recovering.

Howard Osborn, son of Frank Osborn, who has been quite sick, has recovered.

Mrs. William T. Casler is visiting friends at New York.

Tilghists Give an Entertainment—Special Church Meetings.

The Tilghist society gave an entertainment in Oskaleta hall on Wednesday night. Grown folks had to pay sixteen cents to get in and children had to pay eleven cents. There was a good attendance. The programme consisted of a piano and cornet duet by Mrs. Charles J. Strahan and Mr. Strahan, vocal solo by Miss Ethel Langwith, juggling by Wilbur Lloyd, vocal solo by Ernest Kline, mimicry by P. J. Sassano, piano selections by Miss Ethel Hibbetts and Miss Ethel Langwith, whistling solo by Ernest Kline and piano solos by Miss Hattie Smith and Mrs. Strahan.

The special meetings at the Methodist church are being well attended. The preacher on Monday night was Rev. John B. Haines of Red Bank. Rev. G. Morgan Davis of Eatontown preached last night and Rev. Henry Johnson of Eatontown will preach to-night.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival in Oskaleta hall on the afternoon and night of June 4th.

William Strong, who has been visiting friends at Holmdel, returned home on Monday. Mr. Strong is boarding at the Park hotel.

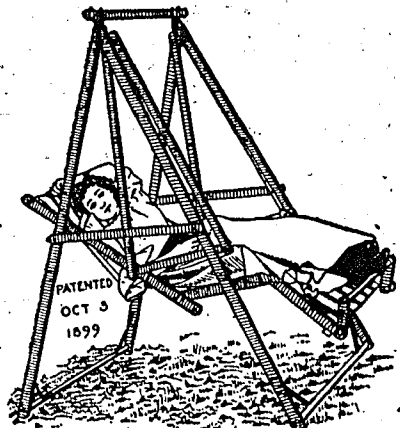

Miss Gray of Princeton is visiting her cousin, Miss Katie Garrigan.

Hendrickson & Applegate's Store.

No matter what it may be you want in the line of things for summer housekeeping, it's at Hendrickson & Applegate's, and it will be found there at the right price. Things for the house, things for use, things for comfort, things for convenience, things for ornament, are all here, and at prices that are hard to beat.

Adjustable Reclining Chair.

This chair is for use on the piazza or lawn. It partakes of the character of both a lawn swing and a hammock, but in some respects it is far better than either. It will hold only one, which is not so pleasant in some ways, but the one who gets it first has a fine rest. The chair is adjustable like an invalid's chair, and it can be set at almost any angle, from almost straight out to three right angles. With such a complete system of adjustment, that tired spot can always be rested. The chair is something new, and will be found a delightful resting or reading chair. We are selling it at $2.90.

LAWN MOWERS.

It all depends upon the Lawn Mower as to whether it is work or pleasure to keep a lawn trim and velvety. With a good Lawn Mower it is a pleasure.

The Caldwell High Wheel Lawn Mower.

This machine is made of the very best material that can be bought, guaranteed to be perfect in construction and ready for use before leaving the factory. It has gained for the manufacturers a world-wide reputation.

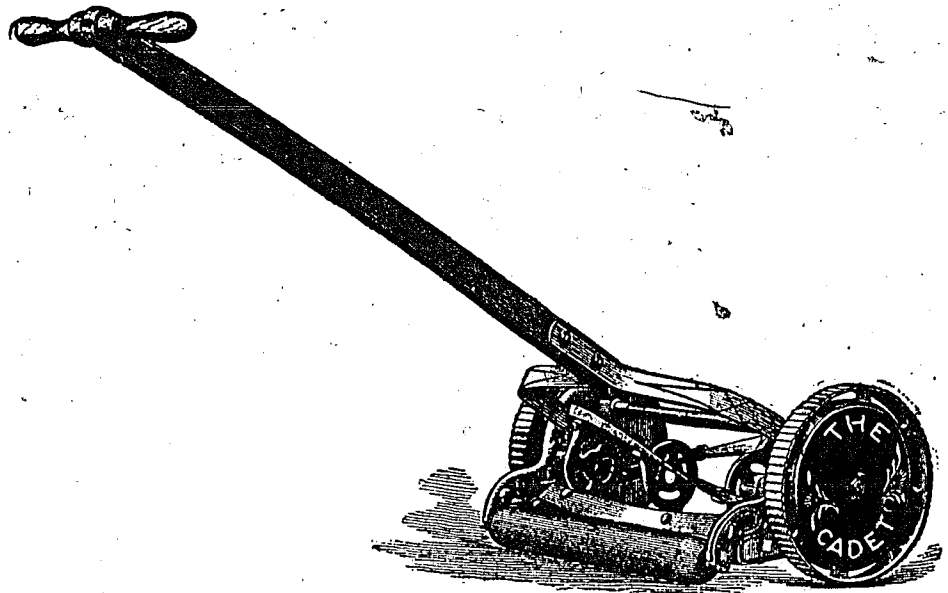

The park departments of Greater New York, Buffalo and other large cities throughout the country are using these mowers to the exclusion of all others. Their merit caused them to be used exclusively on the grounds and to receive highest awards at both the Paris and Pan-American Expositions.

New Style Parlor Suits.

Some time ago we got in a number of these parlor suits. They went off very fast at the very low price we put on them and it was some time before we got in another supply. The new stock has just come in.

This three-piece parlor suit would be an ornament to any parlor. It is one of the neatest parlor suits we have ever had in the store. While delicate in appearance, it is very strongly made. The curves of the legs of the sofa and chairs are very graceful, and the covering is of a new pattern of damask. We are selling these parlor suits at $10.98.

The Cadet.

We guarantee this to be the best low-price Lawn Mower on the market. Although it is not as cheap as some machines which are called "Lawn Mowers," we warrant it to do better work and last longer. It has brass bushings and the same ratchet and adjustment that are used on most of the high grade mowers now made. The gears are fine cut, thus assuring a quiet running mower. It is not made for competition, but to cut grass, and we guarantee it to do this work and to give full satisfaction to the purchaser.

RED BANK REGISTER.

VOLUME XXIV. NO. 48.

RED BANK, N. J., WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1902.

PAGES 9 TO 16.

A VERY BUSY SESSION. MUCH WORK TRANSACTED BY THE COMMISSIONERS.

The Town Authorities Spend Nearly Three Hours Over Public Business—Police, Finances, Streets and Other Matters Taken Up.

The commissioners of Red Bank held a very long and very busy meeting on Monday night. It was practically the first business meeting of the new board, the previous meetings having been confined to routine business, outside of the appointments. The meeting opened at eight o'clock, and it was after half-past ten when the meeting adjourned.

Committees Appointed.

Seven committees were appointed this year, and others may be appointed from time to time. A considerable number of new matters will come up before the commissioners in relation to the streets, and a committee of the whole, comprising the entire board, was appointed on street matters. A finance committee was appointed and it was understood that all bills against the town must be presented to this committee a sufficient time before each meeting to enable the committee to consider them previous to their coming up for action. There has been so much work at the hospital this year in connection with the smallpox cases in the town that a hospital committee was appointed by Mayor Davis.

The various committees were as follows:

Streets—The entire board.
Water—Houston, Pach.
Sewers—Pach, Sheehan.
Fire—Sheehan, Coley.
Street Lights—Coley, Houston.
Finance—Houston, Coley.
Hospital—Sheehan, Pach.

Officers' Bonds Accepted.

The bonds of some of the town officers who were appointed at the previous meeting of the board were offered and were accepted. The bondsmen were as follows:

James Norman, street superintendent—Samuel W. Morford, Robert Norman.
Franklin Pierce Stryker, chief of police—John Sheehan.
Peter Lang, assistant marshal—Franklin Pierce Stryker.
Edward Haley, assistant marshal—John Hackett, O. L. Davis, John Fields.

A Police Shake-Up.

The commissioners stated that the various assistant marshals were all under the direction of the chief of police, and that he was to transfer their beats or routes according as in his judgment the best interests of the town demanded. It was stated at the meeting that changing the locations of the officers' routes would get them out of their customary loafing places, and would compel them to patrol the streets, as they were expected to do. The commissioners made it very plain that the assistant marshals and the night marshals were all under the direction of the chief of police, and that he would be held responsible for the efficiency of the force.

A Resignation From Two Offices.

Henry J. Child sent in his resignation as a member of the board of health and also as one of the police justices of the town. A petition was sent in by the board of health, signed by every member, requesting the appointment of James H. Sickles as a member of the board of health. The resignation by Mr. Child from both offices held by him was accepted, and the commissioners appointed Mr. Sickles as a member of the board of health.

A motion was made that Mr. Sickles be appointed police justice to succeed Mr. Child. Mr. Sickles was appointed a police justice last year, and as there is a question as to whether or not his term of office had expired, the matter was laid over until an opinion could be secured from the town counsel as to whether or not Mr. Sickles' term as police justice expired when his term as justice of the peace expired this month. Mr. Sickles was reflected a justice of the peace this spring, but some of the commissioners thought that the term of a police justice expired whenever the police justice's term of office as justice of the peace ran out. In the Charles Cuthren case six years ago Mr. Wilson, the town counsel, decided that when a police justice was appointed he was appointed for a full term of five years, whether he remained a justice of the peace for that length of time or not.

Sprinkling the Streets.

The matter of sprinkling the streets by the town came up. Some of the commissioners thought that all the streets of the town should be sprinkled. Some of the streets of the town, aggregating perhaps five miles, have never been graded or gravelled. If these streets were sprinkled the water would soak away as fast as it was put on. Eight or ten wagons would be needed to do the sprinkling on these streets alone, and an enormous amount of water would be required. About five miles of streets in Red Bank are sprinkled at the present time. The commissioners thought it would be unfair to levy a general tax to sprinkle the streets unless all the streets in the town were sprinkled, so that each resident might be benefited by the expenditure.

Edmund Wilson sent a written opinion to the board, stating that the streets could be sprinkled by the town in two ways—either by levying a general tax on the whole town, or by levying a tax on the property along the streets which were sprinkled. In either case an ordinance would first have to be passed by the board. After discussing the matter for some time the commissioners decided that the fairest way would be for the town to sprinkle the streets by assessing the property on each street that was sprinkled. By having this work done by the town it would cost less than by the present method, and the work would be done more uniformly, since there would not then be patches of dusty roads wherever the owners did not care to pay for the sprinkling.

The commissioners decided that all streets should be sprinkled where the property owners were willing to have the work done. This would give all sections of the town equal treatment. The street committee will meet with the town counsel and will have an ordinance prepared. This will be presented and passed at the next meeting. The ordinance cannot go into effect until three weeks after it has been passed by the commissioners, so that the work of sprinkling the streets by the town and under the direction of the town officials will not be begun much before the middle of July.

The Speed of Automobiles.

All the commissioners thought that an ordinance should be passed regulating the speed of automobiles. Some of these machines are run through the town at a speed of thirty to forty miles an hour. The drivers of these automobiles are reckless and care nothing for the safety or comfort of the town's residents. An ordinance at present prohibits the riding of bicycles at a greater speed than six miles an hour, and this speed limit was decided on for automobiles. Some of the commissioners thought that a speed limit of ten miles an hour should be allowed, but six miles was the limit finally agreed on. The penalty will be ten dollars' fine for the first offence and $20 for each succeeding offence.

Decoration Day Races.

Frank C. Storck appeared before the commissioners and asked permission to have road races in Red Bank on Decoration day. The commissioners said they thought the idea of having attractions in town on holidays was a good thing for the town and they were heartily in favor of it, but that they could not give official sanction, since in that case if any accident should happen the town might be held responsible. They will not make any opposition to the races being held, and they instructed the chief of police to have two officers stationed on Broad street on Friday afternoon to keep the road open and preserve order.

Graveling Streets.

The previous board of commissioners had decided to gravel Bridge avenue and this matter was taken up by the commissioners on Monday night. Wilbur A. Heisley of Long Branch, president of the Manasquan gravel company, had written a letter to Commissioner Houston, telling him that Manasquan gravel was of a superior quality, and offering to deliver this gravel on board the cars at Red Bank for 75 cents a cubic yard. Street Superintendent Norman said that gravel could be obtained from the Middletown pits for fifteen cents a yard, and that the cost of hauling from the pits to the place of delivery on the roads was fifty cents, making the cost of the Middletown gravel delivered on the road 65 cents per yard. He said it would cost about 25 cents a load to load the Manasquan gravel from the cars and haul it from the cars to the road, making a total of $1 a yard for Manasquan gravel. This was a difference of 85 cents a load in favor of the Middletown gravel. Mr. Norman also stated that in getting Middletown gravel all the money was kept in this locality, and most of it went to the owners of teams in the town of Red Bank; while in the case of the Manasquan gravel most of the money went out of town, where the Red Bankers never saw it again. The commissioners decided to buy several carloads of Manasquan gravel and put in on Bridge avenue from the station to Leonard street and compare it with the durability of the gravel from the Middletown pits.

Collecting Licenses.

The chief of police was instructed to enforce all the ordinances on the town's statute book regarding the collection of licenses from pedlars, shows, auction houses, etc. He was also instructed to make a statement to the commissioners at each meeting, showing the amount of money he had collected. This money is to be turned over to the town treasurer.

Sidewalks and Curbing.

George F. Spinning asked the commissioners to have the curb line fixed along the Scuffletown road, so that the owners of property there could put down the sidewalks and stone curbs as required by the resolution passed by the commissioners at their last meeting. He said that the line of curb in front of the school property was at the wrong angle, and that the extension of the curb in the same line as in front of the school property would bring the curb clear into the sidewalk a little further up the street. He thought a straight line should be set, beginning at Bassett street and extending clear through to Tower Hill avenue, as otherwise there would be two angles in the road. The commissioners said the matter would be looked into by the street committee and that a proper curb line and sidewalk grade would be fixed.

The matter of the sidewalks and curbs on Peters place and Oakland street was brought up. This work was said to be under way and was being done as fast as the stone firms could push it along.

The Town's Budget.

The commissioners had been asked to have several improvements made in various parts of the town, but before they began on this work they said they wanted to know just where they stood financially. The town will have $4,000 of road money this year, but some of this money has already been spent. The finance committee will make out a budget of expenses for the coming year, and will present it at the next meeting of the board for consideration. The commissioners decided that separate accounts must be kept the coming year of all appropriations, and that monthly or quarterly reports must be made to the board by the treasurer. This is to be done in order that the appropriations would not be overdrawn, and to enable the board to gauge their expenditures from time to time.

An Election on Sewer Bonds.

The commissioners will meet with the town counsel before the next regular meeting, to take action about the election on sewer bonds. The sewer disposal plant will be completed in a short time, and the law requires that when a sewer system is completed the voters shall decide at an election whether the cost of the sewers shall be paid at once, or whether bonds shall be issued. The general opinion in town seems to be that bonds should be issued and that these bonds should be paid off at the rate of $2,000 per year. This would pay off the cost of building the sewer system in fifteen to twenty years.

In connection with this sewer talk it was stated that Mrs. Atkins, who is making some improvements to her property on Wharf avenue, had cut into the main sewer pipe on that street, and had connected her property with the sewer in that way. The commissioners decided that if this had been done the connection made would have to be torn out, the cut pipe replaced with new pipe, and the connection with the property made in the regular way, by means of the regular house connection which was extended to the side-walk line when the sewer pipes were put in.

Water Mains on Front Street.

The Tintern water company asked permission to lay its mains on East Front street from Harrison avenue, the new street through the William B. Parker property, to the eastern boundary of the town. The company's representative stated that Harrison avenue was not yet a public street, but was still owned by the Parker estate. The street has not yet been dedicated and the water company man said the company had bought from the Parker estate the right to lay mains in that street. The company was about to lay its mains in Harrison avenue, and it wanted to continue them down Front street to connect with the mains east of the town. The matter was laid over till the next meeting of the commissioners.

SCHOOL MONEY THIS YEAR.

RED BANK WILL GET $9,644.07 FROM THE STATE.

The Apportionment of Money This Year is Based on the Number of Days of Attendance at School by the Children of Each District.

The school money which is given out by the state this year to the various districts has been apportioned according to the number of days of school attendance in each district. In the past the money has been apportioned according to the number of school children in each district whether they attend school or not. It was believed by the state legislature that the apportionment of the school money according to the number of days' attendance at school would be an incentive to greater school attendance, besides being a fairer way of apportioning the school funds.

Monmouth county gets $147,308.80 from the state this year. The apportionment under the new plan shows some big variations from the figures of former years. The schools of Long Branch and of Neptune township are benefited most by the change of apportionment. Each of these districts gets about $4,000 more than it received last year. Red Bank gets $555 more than last year. The schools of Shrewsbury township get about $400 more than last year, and the schools of Middletown township, outside of Atlantic Highlands, get about $330 less. Atlantic Highlands get $500 more than under the old plan. Eatontown township gets $150 more this year, and Atlantic township gets $155 less. Holmdel township gets $125 less.

The township of Freehold, outside of the town of Freehold and the schools of Howell township, are hit harder than any other districts, for each of these districts suffers a loss of about $800 in its school money. The town of Freehold gets $1,200 more than it received last year. This is surprising in view of the fact that many of Freehold's children attend private schools in that town. It indicates, however, either that nearly all the rest of Freehold's children attend the public schools, or else that the public schools of that town are so good that they draw many children from other near-by school districts, which suffer in their school money in consequence. Keyport gets $800 more than last year.

The amount of school money each district in the county will receive this year, and also the amount each district received last year, is shown in the following table:

A Woman's Head Cut.

Mrs. Abram Sanborn of Lincroft fell while stepping from the rear porch of her home last week. The house is new and the rear steps have not yet been built. A box is used temporarily as a step. Mrs. Sanborn stepped on the box and it turned under her feet. She fell so that her head struck the edge of the porch. She received a bad cut back of the ear.

Large Horse Sale!

I will sell at the lively stable of S. W. Newbury, Asbury Park, N. J., Saturday, May 31st, 1902, 35 head of horses. They will consist of an express load of 28 horses and 7 head left over from my other sales. Good assortment of the different classes, gentle roaders, hackneys, business, a few draft horses; and some speed. This will probably be my last sale of this season at Asbury Park. Therefore I will endeavor to sell every horse at this auction, as my time is limited and I must sell them quick. I will guarantee to sell every horse put up, and every horse will be put under the hammer if there are any buyers for them at this auction. Every horse will be sold under a guarantee to be as represented or no sale. Conditions on day of sale. Sale to commence at 1 o'clock sharp. Thomas M. Tice.—Adv.

"UNCLE RUFUS'S" INJUNCTION.

It Enjoins a Town Committee From Passing a Resolution.

At a meeting of the township committee of Eatontown township last Wednesday night a resolution was introduced to annul the ordinance relating to the franchise of the Tintern water company. It was claimed that the company had failed to comply with the conditions of the ordinance. According to the ordinance, the company was to have its works in operation in the township last November, but all the mains have not yet been laid. The resolution was laid over until a special meeting of the committee on Monday night. The clerk was instructed to notify the officials of the Tintern water company that such a resolution had been introduced and to invite them to be present at the special meeting.

Rufus Blodgett, president of the water company, and Mr. Lamonte, the secretary of the company, were present at the meeting. Mr. Blodgett made a speech and then produced from his inside pocket an injunction restraining the township committee from passing the resolution which had been introduced at the preceding meeting. Nothing further was done at the meeting.

A BOY DISAPPEARS.

Willie Mason Suddenly Leaves Middletown Village.

About a year ago William T. Casler of Middletown village went to New York to get a boy to do chores about his place. He found the boy he wanted at a Home. The boy's name is Willie Mason and he is thirteen years old. His father is living, but his mother is dead. The boy made himself useful on Mr. Casler's place in various ways and he was liked by the people of the village generally. Once in a while his father came down from New York to see him. The boy attended the Middletown Baptist Sunday-school. He was a good singer and was to have taken part in the Children's day exercises of the school. The boy was expected to rehearse his part last Sunday afternoon, but he did not attend the Sunday-school session at all. He left Mr. Casler's house ostensibly to go to Sunday-school, but he has not been seen in the village since. Mr. Casler does not understand why the boy left him. He had a good home and had things pretty much his own way. It is thought that the boy came to Red Bank on Sunday afternoon and took the boat for New York.

AN ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.

A Pole Who Could Not Swim Rescued by Joseph Bray.

A pole who is employed by James Bray, Sr., of the Phalanx, went in swimming in Hop brook at that place on Friday night. Joseph Bray, son of Joseph Bray, Jr., accompanied him. The pole had worked hard all day. He felt hot and uncomfortable and the water looked cool and refreshing. The pole could not swim. He undressed on the Phalanx bridge and jumped into the stream without thinking anything about its depth. The water was several feet over his head and he screamed for help. Joseph Bray, his companion, fished him out. A barbed wire had been strung across the brook under the bridge to keep cattle from going under the bridge. In rescuing the pole young Bray grabbed the barbed wire and the palm of his hand was badly cut.

FISH CAUGHT BY PAIFULS.

Picked Up by Hand in Swimming River Last Week.

Fish were gathered up by paifuls in Swimming river, near Lincroft, last week after the water in the stream had been shut off by the building of the coffer dam by the water company. The fish went in the holes in the river bed and were easily caught by hand. Most of the fish were got by employees of the water company. Heulett Conover of Lincroft got a shad, and Joseph Mouser of the same place got an eel that weighed about three pounds.

Fine glassware for the wedding season will be found in almost bewildering variety at the new store of C. Dorfinger & Sons, at 3 & 5 West Nineteenth St., cor. of Fifth Ave., as also at 38 Murray Street, New York.—Adv.

A Slate Burial Vault.

We have at our yard, in all sizes, a patent slate burial vault. It has no equal. It is perfectly air and water tight, it does not absorb moisture, and the price is moderate. T. Manson & Son, Red Bank.—Adv.

NEWS FROM MIDDLETOWN.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE AT BELFORD ON SUNDAY.

A Calico Sociable at Douglass Cook's—Two Cases of Pneumonia at Belford—New American Mechanics—A Stage Line Discontinued.

A calico sociable was held at Douglass Cook's at Belford on Friday night under the management of William Bennett. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Refreshments were served and the party broke up about two o'clock.

Ethel Roop, daughter of William Roop of Belford, is sick with pneumonia. Anna Lohsen, daughter of M. C. Lohsen of Belford, is also sick with pneumonia. William Havens and Thomas Y. Stout are new members of the Junior American Mechanics lodge of Belford. Mr. Stout lives at Everett.

Lawrence Gaffey, who runs a stage route between Atlantic Highlands and Red Bank during the winter, made his last trip for the season on Saturday.

Rev. C. Rollin Smith, pastor of the Belford Methodist church, preached a Memorial sermon on Sunday night. The lodges and the veterans of the place were specially invited to attend the service. The Junior American Mechanics lodge turned out seventy members, the Senior American Mechanics lodge turned out about thirty members and the Odd Fellows lodge turned out twenty-two members. Only four veterans were present. Special music, appropriate to the occasion, was rendered by the choir.

Howard Johnson of New York and Mr. McDonald of Tarrytown spent Sunday with Mr. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson of Navesink. They made the trip from New York by automobile. They left New York at eight o'clock Saturday night and reached Navesink about two o'clock the next morning.

The Port Monmouth Pentecostal church is being painted and grained and thoroughly cleaned. The cottage prayer meeting of the church will be held tonight at Stephen Carhart's and the prayer meeting on Friday night will be held at Mrs. Deborah Carmen's. The church will be ready for occupancy on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Clark of Brooklyn and their child are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brown of Belford. Mr. Clark has just recovered from a seven weeks' siege of intermittent fever.

Jesse Webster, who has been clerk in J. E. Johnson's store at Belford for a number of years, has given up his position. Rufus Eastmond of Belford is employed in his place.

Rev. Charles Miller, pastor of the Navesink Methodist church, preached a patriotic sermon on Sunday night. Mr. Miller spent Monday at New York.

Daniel Bennett's new store building at Belford has been framed and enclosed and the work is being pushed rapidly to completion.

Miss Bertha Eastmond of New York and a gentleman friend are visiting Rufus Eastmond, Sr., of Port Monmouth.

The steamboat William V. Wilson will make her first trip of the season from Port Monmouth to New York on Friday.

Henry I. Budd, state road commissioner, was a guest of William E. Andrew of Navesink last Wednesday night. Reuben Davis of New York spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Davis of Navesink.

Miss Phoebe Fiorland of Belford is visiting her half-sister, Miss Freda Wernecka of Navesink.

C. A. Mount, the Locust Point grocer, has had the front of his store repainted. A son was born last week to Mrs. William Helmuth of Belford.

Mrs. Webster Swan of Navesink spent Saturday at New York.

John T. Hopping of New Monmouth is repainting his house.

Memorial Day Evening.

Go to the entertainment in the Baptist church. The programme will consist of selections by the Red Bank and Long Branch orchestras, consisting of 28 pieces; violin solos by Miss Ruby Gerard-Braun; vocal solos by J. Leroy Hess and Miss Smith; cello solo by James Otterson, Jr.; and piano solo by Miss Austin. Tickets, 50 cents, for sale at Ford & Miller's.—Adv.

Don't Pay Extravagant Prices for your stable goods. We believe we can save you ten per cent over what you are now paying. We carry a large assortment of horse coolers and sheets, fly nets, whips, brushes, oils, soaps, dressings, chamois and sponges, lap robes, horse covers, carriage mats, etc., etc. Birdsell & Son, Monmouth street, carriages and harness.—Adv.

ROLL CALL OF A CHURCH.

IT WILL BE HELD BY THE METH-ODISTS OF OCEANPORT.

The Church Has Fifty-One Members and Thirteen Probationers - It Was Left a Legacy of $5,000 - History of the Church.

A roll call will be held at the Ocean-
port Methodist church to-morrow night.
The church has 51 members and thirteen probationers and it is expected that the entire membership will be present. As the names are called the members will respond by reciting a verse of scripture or by giving a testimony.

Forty years ago the Oceanport Methodists used to go to Eatontown to church.
They held class meetings weekly at the home of one of the members. The preacher at the Eatontown church was
Rev. Thomas Hanlon, who is now president of Pennington seminary. The preacher's salary was about $300 a year, of which the Oceanport members were required to pay one-fourth.

In 1888 the church at Oceanport was built. One of the prime movers in the building of the church was Capt. William Haynes, who left the church a legacy of $5,000, the interest of which is applied to the pastor's salary. According to the provisions of the legacy
the money cannot be used for any other purpose than the pastor's salary.

The year following the building of the church the society, still a circuit charge, was connected by conference with the Little Silver church. The pastor was Rev. W. T. Abbott, who was succeeded by W. S. McCowan. In 1874 conference sent Rev. F. T. Munday to the Oceanport church and ever since then the church has been a separate charge.

The pastors who succeeded Mr. Mun-day were L. M. Atkinson, S. F. Gaskill, T. E. Sleeper, W. H. Pearne, T. S. Wilson, G. Hitchens, J. L. Nelson, W. E.
Greenbank, John Wagg, Levi Larew and
M. S. Messler, the present pastor. Mr.
Messler was appointed pastor of the church last year. He was born at Clarksburg and has been preaching for the past seven years. He is a graduate of Drew theological seminary. He used to be pastor of the Oceanic Methodist church.

Minor Accidents Last Week.
Mrs. Isaac Venable of Long Branch had her leg amputated above the knee
at the Long Branch hospital last week.
Mrs. Venable suffered with gangrene.

A cow belonging to Mr. Braly of Villa Park was struck by lightning on Tuesday of last week and instantly killed. The cow was valued at $100.

Mrs. Asbury Taber of Long Branch fell and broke her thigh about eight months ago. On Friday while walking with crutches she had another fall.

E. R. Yetman, janitor of the Long Branch high school, fell from his bicycle and dislocated the thumb of his left hand.

The horse of John Marquardt of Freehold got frightened at a threshing machine and ran away.

Leroy Babcock, Jr., of Manasquan, mashed his nose while playing baseball.

A School Paper at Long Branch.

The pupils of the Long Branch high school have issued a little magazine under the name of The Spray. The magazine is written by the school children and will be issued monthly. The staff of the paper is as follows:

Editor-in-chief—Willis H. Brown.
Literary editor—Howard B. Reed.
Business manager—Lynden B. Shoemaker.
Associate editor—Alfred G. Hicks.
News editor—Elsie Head.
Advertising manager—Seymour Francis.

Fishermen's Luck.

On Tuesday of last week J. Elvin
West & Co. of Monmouth Beach made an enormous catch of Boston mackerel.
These fish have been quite plentiful at times along the coast, but the catch of last week was the largest ever made in this section. The catch brought over a thousand dollars in the New York market.

Dockstader's Minstrels.

Low Dockstader's famous minstrels will open the season by a performance at Asbury Park on Friday night, July 18th. On the night before the performance a street parade will be given. The paraders will carry electric lights of different colors and there will be fireworks.

Missed the Dog; Broke a Window.

A greyhound owned by Henry Wartman of Long Branch was on Third avenue at that place last week, when someone threw a brickbat at it. The dog was missed but the brickbat broke a window in W. Granville Herbert's bicycle store.

Choked to Death With Stolen Food.

A dog entered D. W. VanNote's
chicken yard at Branchport a few days ago and took five chickens. The dog was discovered in the yard, choked to death, with one of Mr. VanNote's chickens in its mouth.

CHARITY HOSPITAL CASES.

Nearly 800 Patients Treated Free at Long Branch Last Year.

A compilation of the work done at the Long Branch hospital during 1901 has just been made. During the year 562 patients were treated, of whom 292 were treated without pay. Of these charity patients 83 were from Long Branch, 33 from Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, 33 from Red Bank, 15 from Freehold, 13 from the district included in Eatontown, Shrewsbury, Oceanport and Little Silver, and 2 each from Matawan and Manasquan. The other charity patients were from places outside of Monmouth county. The hospital estimates that the extra expense involved in treating these charity patients amounts to $1 per day each, and the total cost of treating the charity patients last year was over $7,500.

A GAS TANK EXPLODES.

An Acetylene Gas Tank Explodes in a Saloon Cellar.

An acetylene gas tank in the cellar of Elwood Brand's saloon on the Avon side of the Shark river bridge blew up on Tuesday night of last week. No one was hurt and little damage was done.
The tank did not feed the lamps properly and Augustus Pyott of Belmar, who was sent to fix them, made one of the valves too tight. This caused the explosion.
The top of the tank was blown off. The plant cost $250 and had just been installed.

To Lecture at Asbury Park.

Miss Helen M. Stone, the missionary who was recently captured by brigands
in Bulgaria, and who was afterward
ransomed, will lecture at Asbury Park on Saturday night, June 28th. Miss Stone was induced to go to Asbury Park through the influence of the Parish guild of Trinity church of that place.

A Cat Hung.

A pet cat belonging to Mrs. DeWitt Quackenbush of Herbert street was caught a few days ago stealing chickens.
Mrs. Quackenbush tied the cat up and on Monday she found the cat dead, it having hanged itself with the string with which it was tied.

Died in State Prison.

Edward Jackson of Freehold, who was serving a three-year sentence in State prison, died there of consumption on Sunday of last week. Jackson was under sentence for stealing a gold watch from Dr. Harry Neale of Freehold.

THE DOG'S TAIL.

Its Language in the Chase and When the Animal is Pleased.

In the case of all hunting dogs, such as foxhounds or wolves, which pack together, the tail is carried aloft and is very free in movement. It is also frequently rendered more conspicuous by the tip being white, and this is almost invariably the case when the hounds are of mixed color. When ranging the long grass of the prairie or jungle, the raised tips of the tail would often be all that an individual member of the band would see of its fellows.

There is no doubt that hounds habitually watch the tails of those in front of them when drawing a covert. If a faint drag is detected suggestive of the presence of a fox, but scarcely sufficient to be sworn to vocally, the tail of the finder is at once set in motion, and the warmer the scent the quicker does it wag. Others, seeing the signal, quickly join the first, and there is an assemblage of waving tails before even the least whimper is heard.

Should the drag prove a doubtful one, the hounds separate again, and the waving ceases, but if it grows stronger when followed up the wagging becomes more and more emphatic until one after another the animals begin to whine and give tongue and stream off in Indian file along the line of scent.

When the pack is in full cry upon a strong scent, the tails cease to wave, but are carried aloft in full view. The moment when the dog most enjoys life is the moment when he sights game. That moment is the time when he wags his tail most vigorously in order to announce his discovery to his fellow dogs.

In this way, by the habit of association, he got to wagging his tail whenever he was pleased. The more pleased he is the more vigorously he wags his tail, so that the wagging of a dog's tail under pleasurable emotions can be traced directly to the time when the dog used his tail as a signal of the discovery of his prey.

An Inspiration.

A pretty girl boarded a crowded street car in Washington, and a pompous old gentleman arose and gave her a seat.

After some time a number of passengers got out, and the old gentleman sank into the nearest corner with a weary sigh.

"I wouldn't get up again," he murmured, "for an angel." And then, as he caught the eyes of the girl fixed upon him reproachfully, he added quickly, "I mean, madam, for another angel!"

The Retort Judicial.

When Judge Barnard was on the bench and holding court in Poughkeepsie, a lawyer who did not like him chanced to see a one cent coin lying on the floor. Picking it up and holding it forth in ostentatious display, he said:

"I imagine, your honor, from the value of this coin, that it must belong to the court."

"And I imagine," replied Judge Barnard, "that if it was not such a small coin the court never would have seen it."

The Mace in England.

Every deliberative civil body in England, even down to the town councils, is provided with a mace, which is brought forth with solemn ceremony and placed on the table before the deliberations begin. In one or two city councils a candlestick of silver is added to the mace, and acts passed in the absence of these objects are supposed to be illegal.

Satisfaction in It.

"You know, my dear," said her friend, "wealth does not mean happiness."

"Well," said the young lady who was considering a possible proposal, "it means carte blanche with one's milliner and one's dressmaker!"

The Old Sexton.

Nigh to a grave that was newly made Leaned a sexton old on his earth worn spade.

His work was done, and he paused to wait.

The funeral train at the open gate. A relic of bygone days was he, And his locks were gray as the foamy sea,

And these words came from his lips so thin:

"I gather them in, I gather them in. Gather, gather, I gather them in."

"I gather them in; for man and boy, Year after year of grief and joy, I've builded the houses that lie around In every nook of this burial ground.

Mother and daughter, father and son, Come to my solitude one by one, But come they stranger or come they kin I gather them in, I gather them in."

"Many are with me, yet I'm alone; I'm king of the dead, and I make my throne On a monument slab, of marble cold; My acceptor of rule is the spade I hold. Come they from cottage or come they from hall, Mankind are my subjects, all, all, all! May they loiter in pleasure or toilsomly spin, I gather them in, I gather them in."

"I gather them in, and their final rest Is here, down here, in the earth's dark breast!"

And the sexton ceased as the funeral train Wound mutely over that solemn plain, And I said to myself, "When time is told, A mightier voice than that sexton's old, Will be heard o'er the last trump's dreadful din—

I gather them in, I gather them in, Gather, gather, gather them in."

Fishing Through Street Gratings.

In Winchester, England, it is quite a common thing to see men fishing through the street gratings. Under the High street there flow several streams which ultimately discharge into the river Itchen, a noted trout stream. These streams receive the storm and surface water from the street by means of the ordinary street grating. The line is dropped through and fastened to the end of a stick small enough to go through the grate. When the fish is hooked, the line and stick are dropped through the grating, and the fisherman rushes to the point where the stream emerges from under the street and is there able to recover his line and land his fish.

Hiding Behind Big Words.

A mining expert recently described a lode as traversing "a metamorphic matrix of a somewhat argilloarenaceous composition." This means literally "a changed mass of a somewhat clayey-sandy composition." This in its turn may be translated into plain English as m-u-d.

Why choke a puny fact with murderous polysyllables? Huxley and Darwin, Lyell and Faraday could so write as to be "understanded of the people," and there is a suspicion abroad in these times that the big words so freely used by small men are a device to conceal ignorance and inexact thought rather than a proof of superior knowledge.

In the Woods.

When the pine tosses its cones To the song of its waterfall tones, Who speeds to the woodland walks, To birds and trees who talks? Cesar of his leafy Rome, There the poet is at home. He goes to the river side; Not hook nor line hath he; He stands in the meadows wide, Nor gun nor scythe to see. Sure some god his eye enchants, What he knows nobody wants. In the wood he travels glad Without better fortune had Melancholy without bad! Knowledge this man prizes best Seems fantastic to the rest; Pondering shadows, colors, clouds, Grass buds and caterpillar shrouds, Boughs on which the wild bees settle, Tints that spot the violet's petal. Why nature loves the number five And why the star form she repeats; Lover of all things alive, Wonderer at all he meets, Wonderer chiefly at himself, Who can tell him what he is, Or how meet in human elf Coming and past eternities?

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS METHODISTS CELEBRATE TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

The Atlantic Highlands Methodist church is celebrating its twentieth anniversary with special services all this week. The special services began on Sunday. In the morning a sermon was preached by Rev. T. S. Hammond of North Long Branch. At night William M. Foster, who was interested in Methodism at Atlantic Highlands before a regular church organization was effected, read a history of the religious interests of Atlantic Highlands from the beginning of the town. Rev. Dewitt C. Cobb, the pastor of the church, gave an address on "The church—yesterday, to-day and to-morrow."

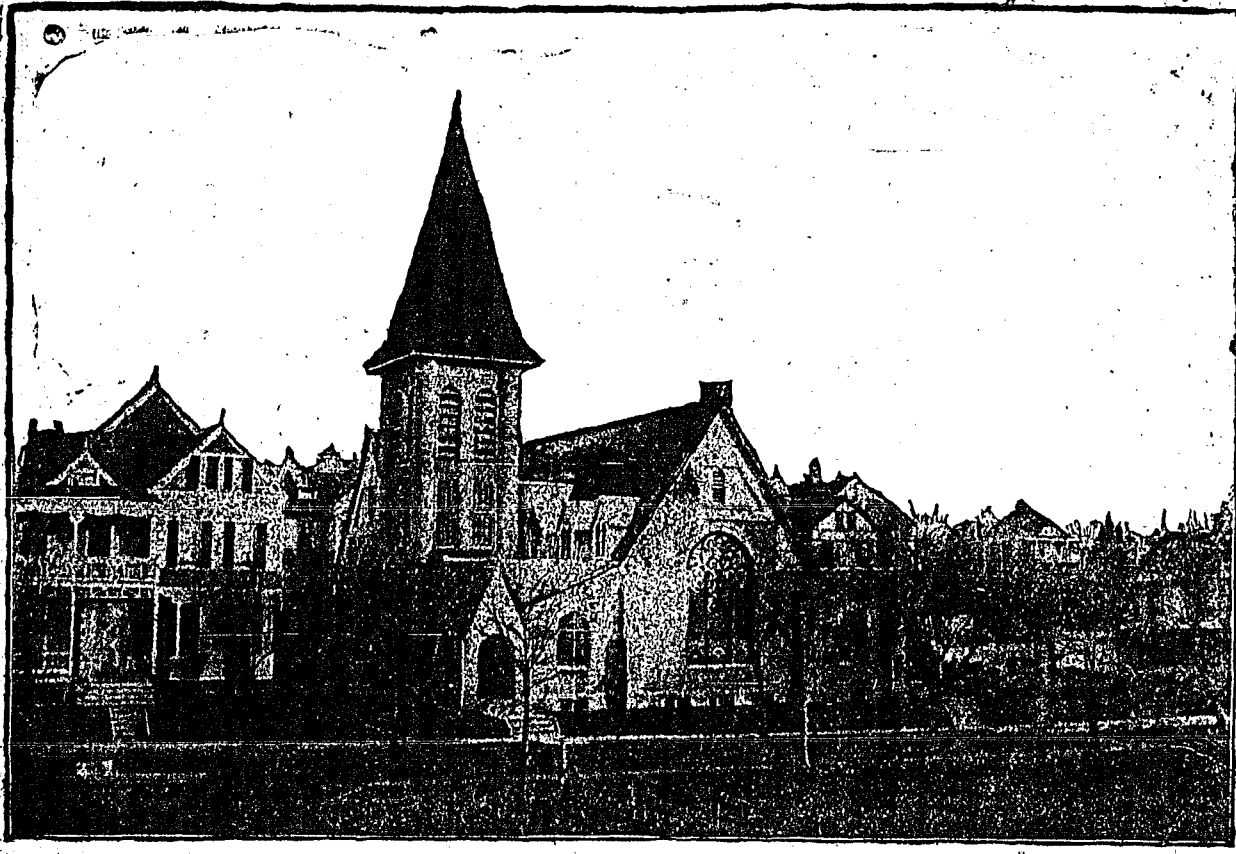

On Monday night Rev. John Handley, pastor of St. Luke's church of Long Branch, preached a sermon. Last night the sermon was by Rev. C. L. Mead of Hoboken, and to-night there will be platform addresses by former pastors of

About that time a Methodist Sunday-school was organized and sessions of the Sunday-school were held at William M. Foster's pavilion, where preaching services were also held. Assemblyman S. T. Champion was superintendent of the first Sunday-school organized at Atlantic Highlands, and John E. Foster, the present prosecutor of the county, was secretary. Miss Hattie Vail, daughter of Mrs. J. C. Nobles, was treasurer. She died about two years ago.

In 1882 a Methodist society was organized at Atlantic Highlands and a church was built. This church was built on First avenue, between Mount and Highland avenues. The church complete cost $5,200. The Methodists then were merely a handful of people. The membership was composed mostly of the families of T. T. Rogers, William M. Foster, S. T. Champion, A. V. S.

was pastor of the church. Under his pastorate a movement for the building of a new church was started, but before the plans were fully matured Rev. John B. Haines, who is now pastor of the First Methodist church of Red Bank, was sent to the charge. Mr. Haines entered enthusiastically into the work of building the church. The old church, which had been moved to Mount avenue, was sold to S. T. White and the erection of the new church was begun on Third avenue, adjoining a lot upon which a parsonage had already been built. The lots for the new church were given by Rev. Edward C. Curtis. A church of brick and stone was built at a total cost, including furniture, of $27,000. The church and parsonage together are valued at $35,000.

The new church was dedicated November 25th, 1896. Following the dedication revival services were held and 25 the church. To-morrow night Rev. J. L. Howard, pastor of Central Methodist church of Trenton, will preach. Friday night a memorial service will be held. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. C. Young, pastor of the Church of the Puritans of New York, and Rev. A. B. MacLaurin, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Atlantic Highlands. Next Sunday morning the pulpit will be occupied by Rev. O. A. Brown, a member of the Baltimore Methodist conference, and at night the preacher will be Rev. George W. Powell of Gloucester City.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS METHODIST CHURCH AND PARSONAGE.

The beginning of Methodism in Atlantic Highlands dates back to 1880.

Crute, David Collins and J. C. Nobles. When the church was a year old the membership was only 83.

The first pastor of the church was Rev. J. E. Lake, who was also president of the Atlantic Highlands association. He was pastor for three years. His successor was Rev. H. G. Conover, who remained only one year. The next pastor of the church was Rev. L. B. Edwards. Under his pastorate the church grew wonderfully and when he left, after a ministry of five years, the church was in a very prosperous condition, both spiritually and financially.

From 1891 to 1894 Rev. Joseph G. Reed persons were converted. The following spring, in 1897, Mr. Haines was returned to Atlantic Highlands for his fourth year. For one year he enjoyed the fruit of his labors and was then succeeded by Rev. Percy Perinchief, who remained one year. The pastor since then have been Rev. Samuel Sargent, who remained two years; Rev. S. S. Weatherby, who remained one year; and Rev. Dewitt C. Cobb, the present pastor, who was assigned to the charge last spring and who has already accomplished much good.

The present membership of the church is about 150.

Furnishing a Home

Summer Furniture

Our display of Reed, Wicker and Willow Furniture is far ahead of anything we have ever shown before.

We are offering for the first time the beautiful white and gold enameled reed furniture, advertised extensively by the exclusive shops of the large cities. We have upholstered these pieces in beautiful cretonnes, and the effect cannot but be pleasing to the most fastidious eye. We are also showing reed furniture in shellac, red, green, black and the new amber finish. We have a large assortment of pretty French cretonnes, which can be used very effectively with this kind of furniture. The odd pieces of willow can be stained and upholstered to suit the purchaser. These pieces can be used very effectively in odd corners about the room. The demand for Prairie Grass furniture seems to be as great as ever. We are showing this in all the best pieces, together with new fibre chairs, rockers and settees which have just appeared in large cities.

MIDDLETOWN'S TEACHERS.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

All the Teachers Get Their Old Positions Except One—The New Appointee is Miss Edna Maxson of Locust Point.

The board of education of Middletown township met last Thursday and appointed the teachers for the coming school year. All the teachers were reappointed except Miss Henrietta White of Eatontown, the primary teacher in the Navesink school. Her position was given to Miss Edna Maxson of Locust Point, daughter of Edward Maxson, who is a member of the board of education. Miss Maxson will graduate from the state normal school this spring. The full list of teachers in the township is as follows:

Everett—T. M. Clapp.
Navesink—Paul Schureman, principal; Miss Ida Johnson, intermediate teacher; Miss Lillian Heath and Miss Edna Maxson, primary teachers.
New Monmouth—Miss Elizabeth Walling.
Harmony—Miss M. H. Hendrickson.
Middletown—Mrs. L. M. Hendrickson, principal; Miss E. M. West, assistant.
Headen's Corner—Miss Eleanor S. Walling.
Lancroft—Elihu Robbins.
Nut Swamp—Miss Nellie Brannin.
Chapel Hill—Mrs. F. L. Brown.
Highlands—Everett Henry, principal; Miss Bertha Pierce, intermediate teacher; Miss M. M. Sicks, primary teacher.
Belford—J. C. Tilton, principal; Miss Ida K. Angar, assistant.
Port Monmouth—Miss Lottie E. Wilson, principal; Miss Mary E. Clarkson, assistant.
Leonardo—Miss E. M. Frazee, principal; Miss Catherine Stout, assistant.
Fort Hancock—Miss Lillian E. Grayford.
The schools of the township will close on Friday, June 8th.

A WOMAN'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. George Rose Found Dead on Her Bedroom Floor.

Mrs. George Rose of Bradley Beach was found dead on the floor of her bedroom last Friday night. In the morning when Mr. Rose went to work his wife seemed as well as usual. When he returned home at night he found his daughter sitting on the front stoop. The daughter had gone home from school at noon and had found the door locked. She went back to school without any dinner. When she returned home from school the door was still locked, and the little girl, thinking that her mother was out, sat down on the stoop to wait for her. When Mr. Rose returned home he forced the door open and going upstairs he found his wife dead on the floor of her bedroom. Heart disease was the cause of her death. Mrs. Rose was a daughter of Archibald Applegate.

A PASTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. Willis G. Brown of Eatontown to Go to Maine.

Rev. Willis G. Brown has resigned as pastor of the Second Advent church of Eatontown, his resignation to take effect the eighth of July. Mr. Brown has been in poor health since the death of his wife some time ago and he and his family, except his son Willis, will go to Orrington, Maine, where Mr. Brown will spend two or three months in the hope of regaining his health.

Mr. Brown went to Eatontown from Bradley, Maine, in 1895. Under his pastorate twenty members have joined the church by profession of faith and the interior of the church building has been improved.

TROUBLE WITH A DAM.

The Tintern Water Company's Coffer Dam at Lancroft Gives Way.

The Tintern water company is having trouble in keeping intact the coffer dam built recently above their main dam at Lancroft. Three lines of pipe lead from the coffer dam to a point below the main dam, but these pipe lines do not carry the water off fast enough. Last week the water rose till it flowed over the dam and the dam gave way. The dam was rebuilt and straightened, but constant watchfulness is required to keep the dam from giving way.

MR. MITCHELL'S LETTER.

The Direction Was Vague, but He Got It Just the Same.

A letter postmarked Ireland and addressed "Rev. William S. Mitchell, Etenstown, Philadelphia, or anywhere, United States, North America," was received recently at the Eatontown post-office. Mr. Mitchell was a former pastor of the Eatontown Methodist church and he is now at Swedesboro. The letter reached Philadelphia and was forwarded to Eatontown. From Eatontown it was sent to Mr. Mitchell at Swedesboro.

Middletown Without a Barber.

Jacob Beiner, who has been in the barber business at Middletown village for the past year, moved to Newark with his family on Monday. Mr. Beiner did a good business in the village, but he thought he could do better by moving to Newark. The village is now without a barber.

Improvements at Navesink.

Aaron Hopkins's improvements at Navesink are rapidly nearing completion. Mr. Hopkins bought a house at Hillside from William Sorey and moved it to Navesink. The house was moved in two sections. The two sections have been joined together and a cellar has been constructed under the main part of the house. The house complete will cost Mr. Hopkins about $1,000. A similar house could not be built new for twice that amount.

Rev. Joseph Andrew is having a windmill put up at his summer residence at Navesink. The house already has a bathroom and all the fixtures for introducing water throughout. The windmill is being put up by Charles Hobrough of Little Silver.

Frank Despreaux of Navesink has built an enclosure on the front porch of his store in which to keep his soda water fountain at night. When open the enclosure folds back against the store and is scarcely noticeable.

Dr. R. G. Andrew of Navesink has had a flagstone walk laid from his front gate to the front porch of his residence. The walk will be continued across the sidewalk and a stone step built at the curb.

A Gift of a Team of Horses.

James Bray, Sr., of the Phalanx has received a gift of a fine team of horses from a summer resident of the Rumson road. The donor is going abroad and has no use for the horses. Mr. Bray received a similar gift from the same party a number of years ago.

A Relic of the War.

Captain William H. Seeley of Belford has in his possession a letter written from the front during the war by John B. Morris of Port Monmouth. The letter is dated Belle Plains, January 26th, 1863. It was written to John Lee of Port Monmouth, who was Mr. Morris's brother-in-law. In speaking of the Port Monmouth boys who were in the army the letter said that Thomas Compton was in the hospital and John Hillhouse had the rheumatism. The Port Monmouth boys were expecting a visit from Rev. William V. Wilson. Mr. Morris said he had received $24.70 as pay from the government and that he would send the money home by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Morris is still living at Middletown, New York.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. The Blue and the Gray.
By the flow of the inland river,
Where the fleets of iron have fled,
Where the blades of the grave grass quiver,
Asleep are the ranks of the dead:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the one the blue,
Under the other the gray.

These in the robings of glory,
Those in the gloom of defeat,
All with the battle blood gory,
In the dusk of eternity meet:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the laurel the blue,
Under the willow the gray.

From the silence of sorrowful hours
The desolate mourners go,
Lovingly laden with flowers
Alike for the friend and the foe:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the roses the blue,
Under the lilies the gray.

So with an equal splendor
The morning sun rays fall,
With a touch impartially tender
On the blossoms blooming for all:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Brothered with gold the blue,
Mellowed with gold the gray.

So, when the summer calleth,
On forest and field of grain,
With an equal murmur falleth
The cooling drip of the rain:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Wet with the rain the blue,
Wet with the rain the gray.

Sadly, but not with upbraiding,
The generous deed was done;
In the storm of the years that are fading
No braver battle was won:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the blossoms the blue,
Under the garlands the gray.

No more shall the wary sever
Or the winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead:
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day;
Love and tears for the blue,
Tears and love for the gray.

THE BONDS WERE LOOSED.

"For the land's sake, Melia Brown, where did you get that arbutus so early in the season?" And Miss Jane Prentice dropped the broom with which she had been diligently scrubbing her narrow flagwalk and leaned across the gate, her eyes alight with pleasure.

"Down to Tucker's woods. There's lots of it on the other side of the creek." The little girl paused, fingering the rough stems and thick leaves nervously. "Here's a little, Miss Prentice, and I'd give you more only I got it for teacher. I promised it to her yesterday."

The child offered a few short stalks crowned with the waxlike, fragrant pink blossoms. Miss Prentice pressed them to her face.

"My, they do smell nice and woodsy, Melia, and I'm mighty obliged to you. If you stop here on your way home, I'll have something nice for you sure, perhaps a little iced cake."

When the girl had shyly spoken her thanks and taken herself off toward the schoolhouse, Jane Prentice stood for a few moments, apparently studying the pale pink flowers in her hands. In reality a peculiar upheaval was under way, mental and moral. For the first time in her life Miss Prentice, aged forty-two, was seriously contemplating a deviation from the straight and narrow path—nay, more than that, the thorn hedged, rigid path of domestic tyranny.

She could look back to her days in pinafores when the woods called her and domestic duties held her fast, when the birds of the air, the fishes in the stream, had a lesson for her which she longed to learn. Yet ever between her and them stood the stern, unyielding mother, to whom daily household duties and certain stints for girlish fingers were as the laws of the Medes and the Persians. Every year the call had come to her with the advent of spring, and every year duty as represented by her mother had intervened. There had been the walks and the porches to scrub each day, the furniture to polish (oh, how she had learned to hate the moist, limp chamol's skin with which she weekly polished the mahogany table and whatnot in the front room), the sheets to be turned and resealed and the stocking bag that seemed never to be entirely empty.

Mrs. Prentice had meant to do well by her eldest daughter in thus molding her into housewifely, forehanded habits, and it had been a grievous disappointment to her when Jane had refused one matrimonial offer after another from men who recognized her worth as a housewife and homemaker. And perhaps that was why the girl refused them all—she had no desire to change taskmasters. In a vague way she was waiting for her day of emancipation, but the children one after the other had married and settled in neighboring towns, until Mrs. Prentice and her elder daughter were left alone. Then the busy mother had died suddenly, falling with heart disease in front of a cupboard where she had been searching for impossible cobwebs.

But years of rigid performance of duties had left Miss Jane too weak to break the bonds at once, and even as she stood in the narrow walk, with the gentle spring sunlight thrilling her, and the birds twittering in the cherry tree near the well, and the waxen flowers in her hands cajoling, tempting her, she hesitated. The morning work in the kitchen was not done. Dishes stood unwashed, and the flags stretching from her feet to the gate were unscrubbed. But the voice of the woods spoke to her again, and with a resolute closing of her lips she snatched up her pail and broom and fled to the house.

There she hastily packed a frugal lunch, picked up a trowel and an old fashioned egg basket and went her way rejoicing, not, however, without carefully drawing every shade and locking every door lest some inquisitive caller might learn her secret and tell the tale of her base desertion of the household gods.

Once in the heart of Tucker's woods she forgot all else. It was "woodsy," sweet, moist, earthy. Close to some of the rotten tree trunks snow still lingered, and she brushed it aside with eager hands, searching for the rare and delicate arbutus blooms. When she had filled her basket with specimens of moss, delicate lichens and quantities of arbutus, she sighed happily and looked across the creek. She remembered a hollow to which she had stolen many springs before, where Jack in the pulpit reared their dignified heads and modest anemones bloomed. She wondered if that fallen tree trunk would not be a very pleasant place on which to spread her lunch. With all the whimsicality of a child living out a fairy tale she fairly skipped across the stream and plunged through the undergrowth into the sunlit glade.

Yes; there lay the old log, all moss grown, with fern stalks clustered around it. She spread out her inviting lunch; then, with a laugh almost girlish, she piled some arbutus in the center as if to grace her woodland feast. She was biting into a tasty sandwich when a sound in the brush behind her made her whirl round. She gave a slight scream and turned white to her lips. Something long and sinuous and striped, something with glittering blue eyes, seemed to be crawling straight toward her. Now the bushes parted, and the awful thing rose to its feet, a man in prison garb. Paralyzed with fright, Miss Jane clung to the tree trunk, and then a musical voice, though pitched to a nervous key, broke the woodland silence.

"Don't be afraid, ma'am. I don't want to hurt you. But, oh, I am so hungry, and you looked kind, and I thought—"

"Gracious," exclaimed Miss Jane in spite of herself, "you're nothing but a boy! What are you doing in jail?"

"I'm not in jail now, but I will be soon if you don't help me. Oh, it was all a mistake. He struck me first. I had to do it to save my own life, but they said it was my awful temper. You will!"

"Do you mean to say you killed a man?" inquired Miss Jane, with a shudder.

"I didn't mean to," he exclaimed wildly. "God knows, I've suffered for the blow. His face follows me everywhere. And now they're after me. Won't you help me? They'll take me back there for life—think of it—till I die! And I am strong! I can't die soon! Think of it, to be shut up there for years and years, day and night, and never to see this sunlight, never to feel free air, but always the air of the prison yard! And you, everybody else, will be out here in the beautiful world, free—free!"

Long fasting and the horror of being hunted like a wild animal had made him hysterical, and after all he was not more than a boy, just turned twenty-one. He clung to her skirts, his eyes fixed imploringly on her face. Nervously she pulled her dress from his hands. She remembered they were stained with blood, but her lips were echoing involuntarily, "Never to feel free air, but always the air of the prison yard."

Suddenly she rose. Something bright glittered in her eyes and rolled down her cheeks.

"I know it's wrong. I'm breaking the law, but I've been a prisoner, too, all my life." The man gaped at her, but she did not heed him. "You eat this lunch, and I'll be back directly."

He clutched at the food like a wild creature, but without looking at him again she ordered him back into the undergrowth and hurried away.

That night a fragile looking woman, who walked with a slight limp, boarded the Philadelphia accommodation at Dobbinville. Under a loose cape she wore a black poplin waist trimmed with beaded gimp that refused to meet. A thick veil shrouded a bonnet that wobbled a trifle uncertainly, and if any one had examined the skirt carefully he would have noticed a hastily sewed tuck near the waist line. When most of the passengers had fallen asleep, the woman's figure squared itself around as if to screen something in her lap. Two work worn hands spread out a roll of bills. Two quivering lips counted them. Then a voice, in which rang a half sob, murmured:

"I'll send for her some day when it's safe and show her I was worth saving. So help me God, I'll do the right thing down there in South America for that old lady's sake. She's on the square. But I wonder what she meant when she said, 'I've been a prisoner all my life.' I bet she never saw the inside of a jail. Perhaps they had her in a 'sylum. But I'm going to do what's right, on the level, old lady, for what you've done for me."

And in Jane Prentice's kitchen at that very moment there rose from the stove an odor of burning wool and leather that made her wonder if the neighbors noticed it.

He Was Sure to Live.

Family tradition has handed down the following anecdote regarding the babyhood of a gentleman, now a grandfather, who is noted among his many friends and acquaintances for his marked decision of character: When he was two or three years old, he was taken very ill, and his family in alarm sent for the village doctor. That worthy came and prepared a powerful dose after the custom of those days, which the small sufferer was forced to take in spite of much kicking and squalling. The next day the doctor came again and once more fixed up the cup of good old fashioned medicine and set it before the fireplace to warm. The baby watched proceedings intently up to this point, then suddenly slid from his mother's lap and, toddling unsteadily to the fire, kicked the cup under the backlog.

"Confound him," said the doctor, "he'll live."

He did.

A Clock for the Rich Only.

Uncle and Aunt Melcher went to town to buy a new clock. "Now," said the dealer, "here is something very attractive in the way of clocks. When the hour begins, a bird comes out from the top and sings 'Cuckoo!' For instance, I turn this hand to 3 o'clock, and the bird comes out and sings 'Cuckoo!' three times."

"Don't that beat all!" cried Uncle Melcher enthusiastically. "Mother, let's have one."

"No, no," said his wife hastily. "That sort of a clock might do for folks that have got lots of time, but it'd take me half the forenoon every day to take care of that bird."

It's in THE REGISTER before most newspapers hear about it.—Adv.

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for 75c. the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1808 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

THE SOUND OF A PIANO.

Seeming Defects That May be Often Due to Exterior Causes.

"A piano," said a dealer, "will sometimes develop or seem to develop a flaw in some one note, which comes to have a rattle or jingle or unpleasant burr to it, but this jarring sound which seems to come from the piano may in reality come from some source quite outside of it.

"Any given note when struck produces a certain number of vibrations to the second. There may be in the room some object that is in tune sympathy with some particular note, and that will be set in motion by it when that note is sounded.

"The owner of a fine piano sent to us one day to say that there was something wrong about a certain note of the instrument, so that that note had an unpleasant sound when struck. When I heard the note sounded, I knew at once that the disagreeable roughness or buzz about it was due not to any defect in the piano, but to something somewhere about in the room, and, asking the lady to strike that note occasionally, I walked around the room to see if I could locate it.

"Passing across the middle of the room as that note was struck, the cause of the jarring accompaniment of it was discovered to come from the vibration of one of the glass globes on the chandelier overhead.

"The owner of the piano was almost incredulous as to this, the sound had seemed so plainly to come from the piano itself. But when at my request she stood under the chandelier and I struck the note she was readily convinced.

"I made that globe immovable and then struck the note on the piano. The answer was clear and sweet and true. "So, you see, the sound of the piano may for one thing depend much upon its surroundings, and what may seem to be a defect in a piano may be in reality attributable to something quite apart from the piano itself.

"And thus it might easily be that some noble instrument that had seemed to be declining or to be developing faults owed its apparent change to a change of environment or to some specific outside cause and was in reality as good as ever, as would happily be discovered whenever the instrument was again brought under favorable conditions."

Popular Science.

The microbe of the tuberculosis may live on a book 103 days, as has been shown by experiment.

Of 1,000 parts of the moon 576 are visible to us on the earth; 424 parts remain hidden absolutely to man's eyes. Without its atmosphere, which serves as a coverlet to protect it against the fearful cold of space, the surface of the earth would be frozen like that of the airless moon.

A certain duration of a luminous impression is necessary to produce an effect on the retina. Hence it is that we do not see a very rapidly moving object, such as a bullet fired from a gun.

If this globe were cooled down to 200 degrees below zero of centigrade, it would be covered with a sea of liquefied gas thirty-five feet deep, of which about seven feet would be liquid oxygen.

Blood travels from the heart through the arteries ordinarily at the rate of about twelve inches per second. Its speed through the capillaries is at the rate of three one-hundredths of an inch per second.

When Animals Are Ill.

Said a prominent veterinarian: "Animals when sick are the most helpless and appreciative of all creatures, and the way of administering relief and medicine in many instances is as novel as it is effective. The most savage and revengeful animals during spells of severe pain are as docile and tractable as a child. Relief must come from a human being, and come quickly, and they seem to know it. The most vicious horse when growling with pain would allow a mere child to administer relief, and many of the wild animals when in sickness seem to forget their savage instincts."

A Thing of Beauty.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever. Its loveliness increases; it will never pass into nothingness; but still will keep A bower quiet for us and a sleep Full of sweet dreams and health and quiet breathing.

Therefore on every morrow are we wreathing A flowery band to bind us to the earth, Spite of despondence, of the inhuman dearth

Of noble natures, of the gloomy days, Of all the unhealthy and o'er-darkened ways Made for our searching; yes, in spite of all, Some shape of beauty moves away the pall

From our dark spirits. Such the sun, the moon, Trees old and young, sprouting a shady boon

For simple sheep, and such are daffodils With the green world they live in; and clear rills

That for themselves a cooling covert make 'Gainst the hot season; the mids forest brake,

Rich with a sprinkling of fair musk rose blooms; And such, too, is the grandeur of the dooms

We have imagined for the mighty dead; All lovely tales that we have heard or read, An endless fountain of immortal drink, Pouring unto us from the heaven's brink.

WHAT IS TEMPERAMENT?

No Wonder This Child's Brain is all in a Muddle.

The half dozen blocks about Dupont circle include the homes of as many scientists of national reputation. These gentlemen of course know each other and meet frequently. Not long ago one of their neighbors began to wonder whether such intimate intercourse among scientists was a good thing, his cogitation having had its rise in the following incident:

His little daughter has just reached the age when she asks 200 questions a day. About a month ago her father spoke of some author as lacking the proper "temperament" for writing on history. That word "temperament" apparently took root in the youngster's mind. What was temperament? She asked that question twice an hour for an entire week.

Finally her father gave her a note to Professor — and sent her off to find out. That scientist answered the query as follows: "Temperament is an individual tendency to the rise of a certain mental state." Father and daughter wrestled with that a little while and then applied to a second member of the scientific group for help. No. 2 called temperament "an ensemble of physical and mental traits arising from fundamental constitutional differences in individuals." This put the little girl's father completely at sea. So No. 3 was tried. His judgment was that "temperament is the psychic resultant of the whole organic life of the individual." By this time hope was abandoned. But when No. 4 volunteered to make it clear the family spirits revived. "Temperament is a general disposition of the mind," he wrote, "the distinctions of which depend on the dominance of one or the other of the physiological systems."

And now the family dictionary is worn out.

Spider and Alcohol.

A student of natural history had been in the habit of immersing for preservation his different specimens of spiders and ants in bottles of alcohol. He saw that they struggled for a few minutes, but he thought that sensation was soon extinguished and that they were soon free from suffering.

On one occasion he wished to preserve a large female spider and twenty-four of her young ones that he had captured. He put the mother into a bottle of alcohol and saw that after a few moments she folded up her legs upon her body and was at rest. He then put into the bottle the young ones, who, of course, manifested acute pain.

What was his surprise to see the mother arouse herself from her lethargy, dart around and gather her young ones to her bosom, fold her legs over them, again relapse into insensibility until at last death came to her relief and the limbs, no longer controlled by this maternal instinct, released their grasp and became dead! He has never since repeated the experiment, but has applied chloroform before immersion.

"What Bucklin's Baked Beans, with Tomato Sauce," ARE NOT

THEY ARE NOT baked beans with ordinary tomato pulp dumped in. Some brands are just that, and they are not good, either.

THEY ARE NOT baked beans with good quality tomato pulp. A few brands are just that, and they are pretty good, too.

THEY ARE NOT baked beans with the choicest quality of tomato pulp, just that would be very good indeed, but—that is where we began the experimenting.

"What Bucklin's Baked Beans, with Tomato Sauce," ARE

First, we learned to make a perfect Tomato "Puree," this we furnished to one of the finest restaurants in New York, and it was just right for their "chef." Then we studied Tomato Sauce made from this "Puree" as a base. We got, finally, a perfect Tomato Sauce, good for a chop, for game, on toast, good by itself.

This sauce we combine with our baked beans, and this is just what Bucklin's sauced beans ARE.

Try one can of them, and serve them "The Best Way." The label directs you.

Very truly yours,

J. & W. S. Bucklin.
